Election upstages bunnies

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

With St. Patrick's Day and Easter Sunday running on back to back weekends this year, the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry renamed its annual Easter Parade the St. Pat's/Easter Parade.

This being the event's title, one would have expected the stars of the show to be little green leprechauns carrying pots full of gold that they found at the end of the proverbial rainbow and the most famous bunny of them all.

But nary a leprechaun was in sight, and though there was a tiny pink bunny peering over the side of a white convertible, they were upstaged by cars and floats ballyhooing candidates for the village and township April 4 election, not to mention the candidates themselves.

Despite the less than spring weather that followed an ice storm the night before, Mayor Ray Toft, who has served as Antioch's top honcho for a split 16 out of the last 24 years, was seen exuberantly walking in front of the car carrying his campaign posters, going from sideline to sideline, shaking hands and handing out political literature.

His opponent Robert Wilton, himself a former mayor of Antioch, now serving as trustee, was not far behind riding on the back of a convertible with his wife Leta, both waving to the onlookers.

Then came an open truck flanked by banners proclaiming the candidates for the township board. The truck had a single occupant, candidate Tim Osmond, who rode in the back sporting a cast. He is the victim of a misstep.

The youngest candidate for village trustee, Larry Hanson, at last count seemed to have the most vehicles and campaign workers in the parade.

One township candidate, Frank Sullivan, open space spearheader who is opposing incumbent Twp. Sup. Jim Fields, took advantage of his Irish heritage to march behind a float decorated with giant green shamrocks, one of the few Gaelic touches, despite the parade's name.

With three out of four Antioch grade school districts having tax rate raise referendums on the April 4 ballot, one of the main focuses of the parade was on the floats and the students surrounding them, that urged electors to vote yes for those referendums.

Since the bulk of the parade's lineup featured the upcoming election, one might wonder what last year's non-election year Easter Parade was made up of.

Easter season

Christians everywhere rejoice with the Easter season and its offer of hope for eternal life. Earlier than ever this year, Easter heralds a change of season where winter's darkness and cold gives way to spring's warmth. Delicate and white, the traditional Easter lilies are harbingers of summer's coming color and strength.—

Noted animal trainer moves to Wauconda

by DEBORAH NELSON

Lakeland Newspapers

From a household dog to a Bengal tiger, he's trained them all.

Christopher Keller, recognized as one of Hollywood's all time premier animal trainers, has semi-retired to Wauconda to play an active role in his father's JR Circuit Company, Inc., a custom printing circuit company located at 111 West Mill Rd.

Although he has left the entertainment industry, Keller is still active in training animals, particularly dogs, cats and birds, for private citizens, as well as appearing with his dog Brie for volunteer work.

With his special "affection training," Keller has been able to train a variety of animals to respond to vocal and hand commands for film and private clients.

"Punishment is not a part of affection training," says the animal activist. "Most of what I teach animals is a game. They enjoy it."

Not only is it a game for the animal, but for the owner. Keller says that he often uses humor to get an owner through the training and that the owners do need to be taught.

Each animal has a different personality, just like people, he claims, and the owner needs to understand the animal's personality.

Of the many clients Keller has served, he asserts, "I can honestly say I have never had a dissatisfied customer."

As he thumbs through one of several portfolios stuffed with thank you letters and recommendations, Keller pulls out a particular letter, a smile creasing his face.

The letter is from a nurse of a terminally ill wing at a hospital. Keller recalls when he took his dog Brie to visit, and Brie and the patients played catch with a little football. A 94-year old man gained particular pleasure from the game, smiling when Brie returned the ball.

As this happened, the nurse walked away and started crying, Keller recalls. "I went over to see if I had said or done something wrong. She turned to me and said that in the seven years she had worked there, she had not seen the man smile, not once."

The nurse, praising Keller's "gift," refers to him as the man that "puts smile on faces that no longer smile."

"These are the things that are the most memorable," says Keller, adding that volunteer work is very important to him. "The glitz and glitter take a back seat," he says.

Currently, Keller is setting up a visit to Condell Memorial Hospital.

Training animals "at least" since he was 12, Keller comments, "I'd be the kid that would knock at your door and ask if I could teach your dog tricks."

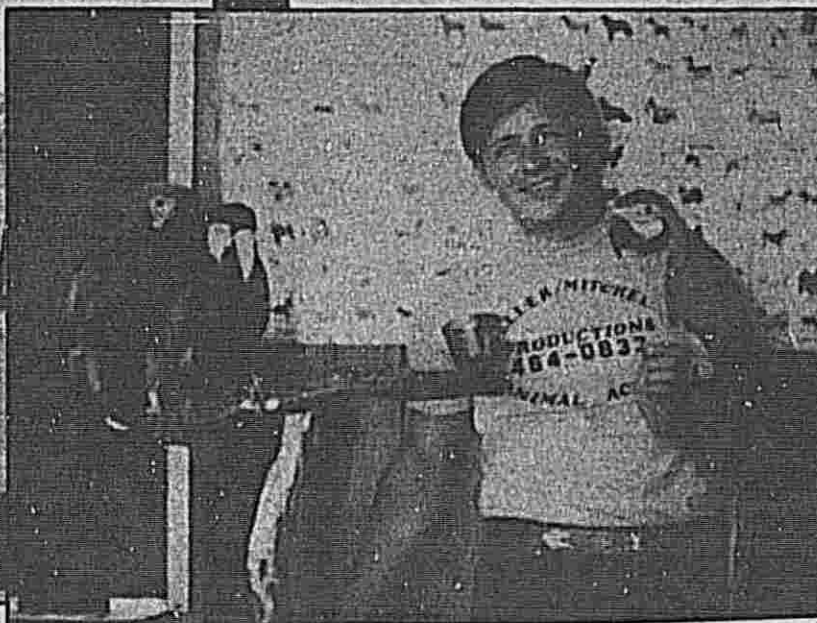

Affection training became Keller's technique when, as a youngster, he saw a man beating his dog. "I do not tolerate injustice from anybody working with animals," asserts the member of Actors & Others for Animals, a non-profit organization dedicated to protecting animals.

During his 20-plus years as a top animal trainer, Keller has trained animals for more than 2,400 commercials and a number of movie and television appearances.

These include such television series as Room 227, Mama's Family, the Carol Burnett Show, the Tim Conway Show, Fantasy Island, The Love Boat, Hill Street Blues and Moonlighting.

Raising a hind leg is abnormal for a female dog, but Keller had Brie trained to raise her hind leg on cue in "no time."

Most recently, Keller's Brie was featured in the movie "House," starring William Katt and George Wendt. Brie, a 14-year-old female golden retriever beat out seven male dogs for the part, Keller said, explaining that the script called for the dog to urinate on Wendt's neighbor.

To enlist Keller's services, call (312)526-7554 or, in the evening, call at his temporary residence at (312)526-6214.

In Third Lake

Mayoral hopeful McCluskey starts write-in bid

By STEVE PETERSON

Lakeland Newspapers

The race for village president is on in Third Lake.

Trustee Karen McCluskey is a write-in candidate in the April 4 election for the top spot presently held by Paul Ericson, Lakeland Newspapers has learned.

Rennell Jackson, another write-in is also seeking support. Jackson is running so far unopposed for a two-year trustee term.

"I think it's great," Ericson said when informed of McCluskey's candidacy.

McCluskey said she decided to enter the race after the flap between the trustees and Ericson over whether or not the Lake County Forest Preserve should acquire the Florence McKay property.

"I was disturbed with what had happened over the McKay property," she said.

At a February Forest Preserve meeting, Lake County Board member Bob Neal read a letter from Ericson stating Third Lake does not wish to have the 26 acres off Washington St. acquired because a developer was considering a project for the land.

That raised the ire of Third Lake trustees, who later passed a resolution opposing Ericson's letter. Ericson later changed his position on the matter. And last week, McCluskey read that resolution and presented to the Lake County Forest Preserve Board petitions containing signatures of some 300 plus county residents who wish to have the land purchased.

Ericson said he would not change any campaign strategy with the announcement of McCluskey's candidacy. The Mariner's Cove subdivision resident said a flier is being circulated throughout the village explaining his goals for the two-year term.

Third Lake residents will have a chance to meet the candidates for village president, as well as those running for trustee at a meet-the-candidates night March 29. Sponsored by the Third Lake Improvement Assn. and the Mariner's Cove Assn., the 7 p.m. event will be at Third Lake Village Hall.

Ericson, a former trustee, said he would like to see more citizen involvement in the village if elected.

Ericson has been mayor of the village since he was appointed to replace Charlie Mann Aug. 4, 1988.

"It's very hard to run as a write-in," McCluskey said.

In order for a ballot to be counted as a write-in, the candidate's name must be written, a box with an 'x' be drawn, the Village of Third Lake, village president be listed.

McCluskey, a 10-year Third Lake resident and a board member for a year and a half, is already garnering support.

"I am 100 percent in support of Karen.

Karen is a very level-headed woman and she carefully weighs out all the options. She has a strong feeling about the quality of lakes. She does not take an issue half-way. It would be wonderful if Karen was elected," Mann said.

Mann was sharply critical of Ericson, saying she has had phone calls from Mariner's Cove residents. Mann, a Grayslake resident, is supporting Melinda Willen in her bid to be mayor of Grayslake against Trustee Marvin Smith.

She revealed that Ericson was not her first choice to be her successor.

"I could not talk anybody else into it," she said.

"Karen would be a good blend of the old and the new," she said.

Those running for trustee include incumbent Dennis Frechette, who is seeking a two-year term; incumbent Charles David, Lee Ellen Behr and Scott Brummell.

Gilmer might become newest village

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Gilmer could be the next Lake County village. Now an unincorporated area sandwiched in between Mundelein on the north, Hawthorn Woods on the west and Lake Zurich on the south, residents say they are tired of being squeezed.

Gilmer, at Hwy. 60 and Midlothian Rd., exists on county and state highway maps because it is a one-time railroad stop.

Talk of incorporation has escalated to the point where petitions are ready to be circulated calling for a referendum—possibly in September.

If the vote is successful, this would make Gilmer the 50th Lake County village or city.

Upwards of a four-square-mile area with at least 7,500 residents is targeted for the new village. Included are residents in Sylvan Lake and Countryside Lake plus the adjoining unincorporated area.

Libertyville Atty. Donald Deuster is keeping the Sylvan Lake homeowner's association abreast of state law on incorporation. Deuster lives in the community. The homeowner's association has already had one meeting on the subject and plans more in the months to come. The February issue of the Sylvan Lake newsletter featured an article on incorporation.

Only 35 signatures are needed for a referendum. The petition must define the geographic area and approximate number of residents. A judge certifies the petition and fixes the date for an election.

Adjoining communities such as Mundelein, Hawthorn Woods and, possibly, Lake Zurich might object.

However, it is precisely because of these communities that incorporation is being considered. "Surrounding communities are talking about annexation," Deuster said. "Should the people of these areas be taken over by creeping annexation or determine their own destiny?"

County Board member Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich said the threat of annexation by Mundelein is one of the major reasons for the move toward incorporation. "You can't blame these people," he said.

Although Sylvan Lake has far more residents than the loosely-defined geographic area of Gilmer, most residents like the name Gilmer. The railroad to which the area owes its name is still there, but it no longer makes regular stops.

Weapons under fire as feds, cops act

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

On the same day last week, the Federal government, Lake County law enforcement officials and MEGS (Metropolitan Drug Enforcement Group), aided by the Antioch Police Dept., took part in a nationwide drive to stop the fast spreading importation and sale of automatic weapons.

First, the Bush administration levied a temporary ban on the importation of semi-automatic weapons such as the AK-47 assault rifle.

Federal governmental agencies are now deciding whether or not semi-automatic weapons should be used as hunting weapons.

Although the temporary importation ban has been put on the AK-47 and some other semi-automatic weapons, many manufactured by Eastern Block countries as is the AK-47, the production of American and many Israeli semi-automatic weapons is permitted.

To date there has never been a ban on the importation and sale of any fully automatic weapons.

The drive against ownership of semi-automatic weapons such as the AK-47, comes after the horror, shock and condemnation of the use of that weapon by a lone-gunner in the killing of children in a school yard a few months ago.

President George Bush, an avid hunter and member of the National Rifle Assn., has already voiced his opinion against banning such weapons. That is why the federal banning came as a surprise.

A Lake County law enforcement official said that the AK-47 and many other semi-automatic weapons that do not fall under the ban, can be made into a completely automatic rifle inside of minutes by someone who knows how to do it.

But across the state line, in Wisconsin, no local registration for gun ownership is required. The only person that can carry a concealed hand gun (with no exception) is a police officer, but a person can wear a pistol strapped to their hip in public, and as long as it doesn't cause a riot, that's OK.

Also in Wisconsin, when one purchases an automatic weapon (OK as long as they have a Firearms Owners ID), a check on that person is made to make sure there is no criminal pass. This information is sent on to the local police.

Anyone who passes these tests is allowed to own an anti-aircraft gun or a howitzer, even an arsenal full of operational weapons, if they want to.

The day after the banning news was released, the Antioch Police Dept., aiding MEGS on a drug arrest in Antioch, uncovered five handguns and two AK-47s along with 1,000 rounds of ammunition in the home of the alleged drug dealer.

The next day, the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., arrested 33 people in a crackdown of illegal gun sales having allegedly taken place at the monthly gun show held at the Lake County Fairgrounds.

The violation of the state law that requires a gun seller to wait 72 hours after the purchase of a gun to deliver the gun to the purchaser, was the charge made against 16 gun dealers arrested.

These dealers were arrested on misdemeanor charges on warrants issued the preceding week.

The arrest of the dealers came after a state law enforcement investigation and was made by 50 policemen including undercover agents of the state, Lake County Sheriff's Deputies and local police officers.

Reports have those agents having successfully made purchases of fully automatic weapons, assault type rifles such as the AK-47, and other semi-automatic weapons at the fairgrounds for prices ranging from $50 to $350.

Agents reported that a continuous stake-out of the gun show revealed long lines standing to make immediate purchases of guns and also the witnessing of applications for gun owners I.D. cards being illegally made out by the seller instead of the purchaser, as required by law.

Seventeen of those arrested had been charged with felonies, with some convicted of the crimes of kidnapping, armed robbery and aggravated assault, and still they had guns in their possession and were selling them.

Alcoholics do not suffer alone . . .

We get hurt, too.

Alcohol and drug abuse afflicts an estimated 59 million Americans, young and old, male and female. And the number of people whose lives are affected—even endangered—by an alcoholic is even more alarming.

People like employers, co-workers, neighbors, friends, spouses and, most regrettable...children. Did you know, for example, that a child with one alcoholic parent has a significantly greater chance of developing alcoholism than the child of non-alcoholic parents?

At Victory Memorial Hospital, we're helping alcoholics (and their friends and families) recognize and understand their illness. Victory offers unique outpatient and in-hospital programs. And we have specific programs for the chemically dependent adult or teen.

If you need help, or would like to learn more about the disease of addiction, call Victory's 24-hour resource line at 688-HELP. We can help the hurting stop. Call today.

Campaigning for top spots

From left Raymond Toft, Robert Wilton, James Fields and Frank Sullivan are vying for the top village and township seats. Incumbent Mayor Toft and Wilton differ on issues while Fields maintains the open space Sullivan is championing does not concern the job he is running for. See coverage on Fields and Sullivan on Page 8.

Argue on cop switch, Wells, rust, garbage

Incumbent Antioch Mayor Ray Toft is a native of Antioch who has served as the village's mayor for a split 16 out of the last 24 years. Before that he was an Antioch trustee.

He is the former owner of the Shell Service Station (now Ray's 76) on Toft Ave. (named after the mayor.)

He now owns Toft's Auto Racing, Inc. which operates at the Wilmot Speedway in Wilmot, Wis.

He has been married to Joan Toft for 38 years. They have two grown daughters, Deborah and Kathy.

Toft is proud that the village's sewer system has been brought up to requirements under his administration. He's also happy about Antioch's commercial growth in the last eight years, proudly reporting that the village's sales taxes have gone up about 107 percent in those years, from $5 million to over $1 million.

Toft's opponent Trustee Robert Wilton is also an Antioch native. He worked in the family business Wilton Electric until the 1970s and is now owner of Pizza Plus on North Ave. He is married, has stepchildren with his present wife Leta and a daughter by a former marriage.

He is a long-time trustee, having served as Antioch's mayor from 1973 for one term.

While Toft is campaigning on his long record in office, Wilton is telling the voters that Toft's term has been too long and "It's time for a change."

Wilton, who did not approve of the restructuring of the police department because it means "too many chiefs and not enough Indians," wants to know what two lieutenants and one chief are doing in the police department office for $105,000 per year. He wants more officers on the street.

On the other hand, Toft, is "happy with the restructuring," claiming a 20 percent increase in the solving of crimes and the arrest rate since the restructure.

Wilton calls all the drug arrests made as of late, "electioneering, done to impress the voters" asking why were there no big arrests for so long despite all the drug activity in Antioch until the election began coming near? He adds that both big drug busts were the work of MEGS (Metropolitan Drug Enforcement Group) with the Antioch police going along just for the arrests.

Wilton claims that when Lt. Charles Watkins was first put into the office, there was only one officer on duty during certain hours for three months until a new policeman was trained.

"We now have a rookie replacing a 15-year veteran on the street," adds Wilton.

Wilton pledges to get rid of the rusty water in the village that has become a big complaint. Toft says it is much too costly, adding, "we looked into it many years ago and the cost was prohibitive at $500,000, its probably twice that much now." He suggests that he bought a water softener and that took care of the rusty water as far as his home is concerned.

Wilton claims that when Lt. Charles Watkins was first put into the office, there was only one officer on duty during certain hours for two months until a new policeman was trained.

village public works department, to be the new village administrator, saying he'd rather bring someone up from the ranks that knows Antioch and the workings of the village than bring in an outsider.

Wilton claims that a college degree (Wells does not have one) in administration is necessary for the job since all administrators in the state have degrees. He would like a comparison of other applicants qualifications and Wells' record.

Wilton promises to cut the high cost of the individual garbage pick-ups now being made for Antioch residents by contracting with one scavenger service and amortizing the cost among the residents.

Toft claims that Wilton made this same promise in his 1973 campaign "and it looks like he's still working on it."

Wilton is in favor of the referendum creating the police and fire commission right away instead of waiting for the state mandate that will be enforced by 1991 when the village is expected to have more than 5,000 residents. He thinks this will create higher standards for the hiring of new policemen.

Toft says he has some questions on the commission, but "if the people want it, its OK with me."

Wilton feels that it will get the politics out of those departments.

Both candidates are calling for controlled growth while Toft is bothered about being blamed for a lot of the new multiple family housing being built.

"The land where some of these apartment buildings that some people are objecting to was so zoned while Mike Haley and Bob Wilton were in office," says Toft.

Rosins 'Wheel' west to be on tv game show

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Getting on the famous tv game show, "Wheel of Fortune," is not an easy process, nor is coming home with prizes quite as simple as it looks from a tv-watcher's armchair.

Margaret Rosin, a junior at Antioch High School, wrote a letter to the program's producers three years ago when she was 14 years old, asking to be on the show.

On Feb. 4 of this year she finally got a letter from them telling her about tryouts to be a contestant.

So along with 600 other would be-contestants, she began the three-test trek towards her debut on national television.

After passing a series of tests which had applicants solving puzzles against a fast-timed clock, she finally found out that she was one of 30, out of the original 600, who were asked to come to California and be on the show.

So for her appearance set for March 11, the entire Rosin family, mom, dad, brother and dog, planned and took their vacation out west, to accompany Margaret on her trip to fame and fortune.

Margaret lasted through the first round, winding up with $1,400 in prizes that included a tv set, stereo, some watches and a pair of roller skates.

"I was lucky in one way, with my winnings under $1,500, I won't have to pay taxes on my prizes," Margaret said happily.

"I wasn't nervous before or while I was on the show, but I still get nervous thinking about it," she adds.

Margaret Rosin

Correction

In the article concerning the tax rate raise referendum on the April 4 ballot for Emmons Grade School, if passed the rate raise will mean an additional $8.96 per $100 of assessed valuation per month, not per year as reported, or $108 per year.

Letters To The Editor

Small price to pay

Editor:
Grass Lake School Dist. is faced with a fourth attempt to a tax-rate referendum. I'd like to thank everyone who has supported our district in the last few elections. Please come out and show your support again. It is comforting to know over half of our support has come from non-parents.

The majority of our voters are not parents. However, they have as much to gain as we do. Grass Lake School does need the money. The majority of funds to operate our school come from local sources. It has been 15 years since a tax rate raise has been realized in our district.

Our tax rate is one of the lowest rates around and even with the rate increase would still be below many of the other districts.

I believe it is everyone's responsibility to see our children receive the best education possible. As a parent, I would like my children to have the same opportunities as the children in other districts. My children do not have many years left in GLS. I believe my neighbors and yours deserve the best also.

It is our duty to help one another. We pay Social Security not knowing if it will even be there for us. Yet our retired citizens need it now and it is there, and I am glad it is. Along the same lines education must remain here for our children.

My husband's family has lived in this district for 35 years. Both brothers are raising their families here because of the community appeal. We need to preserve our high community standard for future generations. Maybe your grandchildren or mine will locate here. It is selfish to think of our own present needs without giving any thought to the future.

Please weight all the facts and I am sure you will see it is a small price to pay for what we would be gaining. Please come out and vote yes on Tuesday, April 4.

New tax

Editor:
On Tuesday, Apr. 4, the citizens of Antioch School Dis. 34 will be asked to vote in support of the school referendum.

This referendum is needed to maintain just what we have now. For five years, the district has been in a deficit budget position. This year alone, the deficit is $297,000 and the school board is projecting a deficit of at least $320,000 for 1989-90. The schools cannot continue to operate this way.

As it is, our district spends less per pupil than the state or national average. But Antioch has been able to maintain its quality educational program for our children.

Antioch has a good reputation for its school system, which is why many families choose to live here. That is one of the factors my husband and I considered when we moved to Antioch five years ago.

And, now that our children are of school age, I'm even more concerned about the educational system in our community.

None of us are enthusiastic about having our taxes raised; however, we all want to see our children or grandchildren receive the best education possible.

On Apr. 4, please show your support for our children and their education. Vote yes!

BEST FOOT FORWARD FROM THE OFFICE OF DR. PAUL ABLER

FOOT PRESSURE AND DIABETICS

A three-year study has centered on the effects of abnormal pressure on the bottoms of the feet of diabetics. An earlier pilot study found larger pressures in the forefoot than in the rearfoot, and a correlation with the location of lesions. Data for non-diabetic subjects consistently shows more pressure in the heel.

The study, funded by the VA in cooperation with Pennsylvania State University, followed 30 diabetics who received therapeutic footwear with customized orthotic inserts, 30 who did not, and another 30 non-diabetics. As the study went on, some in the second group who developed lesions on the soles were also given therapeutic footwear, with good results. One patient had developed 14 lesions-all resolved by therapeutic footwear.

The study underscores the importance of regular examination of a diabetic's feet.

ACHS Board eyes possible expansion

The Board of Education of Antioch Community High School was given the student enrollment projections for the 1989-90 school year at its last regular board meeting. The projection is that the enrollment should be close to 1,700, the same figures as this year.

The major immediate change shown in the projections is that more and more ACHS students are electing to take five academic subjects.

The sign-ups for English, math, social studies and science show a substantial increase. There has also been a slight increase in the number of students wanting to take a foreign language course and also fine arts.

At the meeting, Board Member Charles Forster told the board that the growth and development committee has been studying the need for additional space to serve any potential increase in student enrollment.

Possible solutions to this potential problem will be discussed at a special board meeting in the future.

Forester also informed the board that he had received a letter from Grayslake High School Board of Education President Carole Dewar requesting a meeting with the ACHS Board to discuss the possibility of the consolidation of the two schools.

This request was referred to the growth and development committee for consideration.

One of the big new projects of the school board and the administration, the formation of a substance abuse task force committee, has gotten its start with the formation of the committee completed.

Supt. Gary Allen reported that members of the task force committee include Board Members Tom Fisher and Jan Ranney; Assistant Principal Steve Wapon; ACHS teachers, Ann Kakacek and Greg Decker; ACHS counselors Cathy Cratty and Joey Freund; special substance abuse counselor Janet Matalas and Tim Noonan, the head of the ACHS guidance department.

Allen told the board that this committee is expected to be expanded to include parents and other members of the community in the near future.

In other business, the board:

— set graduation at 2 p.m., on Sunday, June 4.

— approved a request from the Iceless

Hockey Organization to rent the north gym for its awards presentation, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., on Sunday, April 16; and also the request of the Lindenhurst Park Dist. to use the Polley Field softball diamond for its summer 1989 program.

Spring housecleaning could help ACHS shed sales

Spring cleaning

It is time to spring clean your house and remove all the extra unwanted items from your garage. However, what do you do with the items you want to relocate? The carpentry students at ACHS have the answer for you. The students are building storage sheds to see to area residents. The sheds are 10 feet wide by 12 feet deep. They are partially assembled in the shop, and will be delivered and assembled at the site. They come complete with a treated wood floor. The price for this fantastic school project is only $650. For more information, call ACHS and ask for Ken Kasuboski. A sample shed can be seen in the bus parking area at the high school.

ALGS

The winning Antioch Lower Grade School class in the Campbell Soup Label contest is Mrs. White's second grade. Congratulations! 22,000 labels were collected in the whole school thanks to students, parents, teachers, the senior center and Jewel Foods for the big certificates. Please continue to save labels and send them to the school throughout the year.

A marionette show will be presented to the lower grade students on Friday, April 7, by the Kansas Bureau of Lectures. The story will be the "Legend of Sleepy Hollow."

The ALGS annual book fair will begin on Monday, April 10, and will continue through Thursday, April 13. Parents night will be held on Tuesday, April 11, to view the books.

4-H camp

The Univ. of Illinois Cooperative Extension Lake County 4-H program has three full "camperships", or scholarships available for 4-H youth camp this summer. Lake County youths in grades two through seven can apply. Camperships will be awarded based on financial need.

Camp Shaw-waw-nas-see is located near Manteno, Ill. There are several camp sessions. However, a bus from Lake County is available only for the July 9-13 session. For more information, contact the 4-H office at (312)223-8629.

Pre-school

If you'd like to give your three- to five-year-old child a head start in schooling, contact Mary Oplawski at (312)395-8858. Mary is a certified teacher with seven years experience in early childhood development. She conducts the "Learn & Grow" education program from her licensed Antioch home. The maximum class size is seven. There are only a few openings. If you want to give your child this early exposure to learning, contact Mary ASAP.

Emmons School

Would you like to visit a foreign country, but do not have the funds? In a way, that is what Miss Beno's fourth grade class at Em-mons School did—and they never had to leave the classroom. As the students studied ancient and modern Egypt, they made replicas of ancient homes, pyramids and boats. They dressed up like Egyptians, ate Egyptian food, and actually built a 10-foot-tall pyramid in the classroom.

Hometown Goodies

Liz Schmehl

In between visiting Egypt in this unique way, they are learning about friction in science, and have broken math into pieces as they study fractions and decimals. Miss Beno, let me know when you study Hawaii, I could use a vacation!

Grass Lake yearbook

The Grass Lake School yearbook has been sent to the printer. A few more thank-yous are in order from the yearbook staff. Thank you, Carolyn Adams and Sandra Boesdoerfer for all the photos you both submitted. Also, thank you Ray Liss for all your "camera" help. Your assistance was truly appreciated. Etc., etc., etc. . .

Rich Hansen, does the number "7" sound familiar to you? Someone told me you may know how to use power tools and the like, but when it comes to using an ordinary kitchen knife you become dangerous. I understand you cut your finger instead of the sausage you were preparing, causing seven stitches. Glad to hear you are okay after your mishap. Next time, use a table saw to cut your sausage—it may be safer!

Happy March birthdays to Pat Priller, Chris Priller and Dan Fiocchi. I understand one of you will be celebrating the big "40". Of course, I would never tell which one. Happy birthday to you all.

Hi there, Debbie Campbell, Marian Rhode, Rose Simpson and Kelly Brausam. Kelly, have you seen my car overturned anywhere lately? Call me with your tidbits, and remember to "Ask for the Lizard!" See you next week.

Emmons School

The hard-working third graders at Emmons School are in the news. In science, they are learning about earth changes due to weather and erosion. They are studying fossils and dinosaurs. In English, they are learning correct letter forms and have practising what they've learned as they write letters to community leaders. Social studies is very interesting as they learn about America's patriotic holidays and famous Americans. Last, but not least, the third grade is learning computer skills through a computer workbook, which introduces computer concepts, and computer vocabulary. They apply what they learn as they play various games on the computer.

For the second time, Britt McCallum took the first place title in Emmons' School spelling bee. Britt is in the sixth grade. Seventh grader Jaime Crank came in second for the alternate title. Congratulations to Britt and Jamie and all the individual classroom finalists who made it to the final school competition.

Dog training classes

Lake County 4-H program will sponsor dog training classes in April. It is a 12-week program and is open to youth ages eight to 19. Classes will be held on Monday evenings at the Lake County Fairgrounds. An orientation meeting will be held on April 3 at the Lake County Cooperative Extension Office on Hwy. 45. If planning to participate in the program, you must attend this meeting with a parent. Do not bring your dogs to the meeting.

To register for the program, call (312)223-8629 for further information.

Etc., etc., etc.

Cub Scouts Pack 80 will hold their annual spaghetti tickets. More information will follow as to time, etc.

Grass Lake students raised $1,501.92 for St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital during the Math-a-Thon. Sarah Wechselberger, second grade; Daniel Jorudd, fourth grade; and Colin Dent, fifth grade, were the top three collectors. The class collecting the most money was the second grade.

If you live in Antioch School Dist. 34, you have probably received the detailed information fact sheets regarding the referendum which will be on the ballot on Tuesday, April 4. If you would like further information, or have any questions not covered in the circular, call (312)395-3929, (312)395-1793 or (312)395-7304. Someone will be glad to discuss your concerns with you.

I received a phone call from Irene Falcone concerning an upcoming need for spectacles. It seems Irene thought she was polishing her toenails, and upon closer inspection noticed she had polished two toes, leaving the nails completely untouched. Yes, Irene, I'd say it is time for a trip to the eye doctor—providing you can find his office.

Sullivan calls for better tax receipt investing

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Through most of the campaign for the Antioch Twp. Supervisor's seat, Challenger Frank Sullivan, a very active and vocal open space advocate, has lambasted incumbent Sup. Jim Fields for not fighting for open space when the Lake County Forest Preserve was trying to acquire the Red Wing Marsh plus area in the township.

Field's answer is that he does not approve of the forest preserve's right to just take people's property without notifying them before they decide to purchase it. He also thinks that the many acres of the Chain O'Lakes Park makes Antioch Twp. one of the largest holders of conservation property in the area.

Fields, who has been township supervisor for 12 years, and is also on the Lake County Board, serving as chairman for 18 months, has told Sullivan that he is running for the wrong office if keeping open space is his main purpose since a township supervisor has no say so over that question.

So Sullivan has come up with an objection to the way the township has been investing its money.

Sullivan says that investing of unrestricted and unused township funds comes under the supervisor's authority and he thinks Antioch Twp. could be making more money on its investments.

Sullivan compares the investment of property tax receipts from Antioch, Avon and Benton Twp. in 1985, 86 and 87, saying that more prudent investing would have gained the township an additional $100,000 over the three year period.

Fields says, "He only used two townships, if we are number three out of 18 townships, that's OK with me."

ACHS students' art on display at museum

The Lake Region Historical Society's Valentine Box Contest was a big success. There was at least one winner from each area school that submitted entries.

The theme prize was won by Michelle Geske, Gavin; prettiest, Joshua Mack, Antioch; and visitor's choice prize was won by Amber Gare, Grass Lake.

There were also two additional awards: most unusual, Rob Bedrasian, Antioch; and sentimental favorite, Vanessa Perez, Gavin.

Pete Lehman brought us some old movies of ice fishing on the chain. He also showed us a film of Antioch Fire Dept. and Lions' Club events in the late '30s. We tried to identify faces, but 50 years can make quite a difference.

In the works are an informational sign for the front of the museum and a brochure for advertising purposes. Watch for these.

Special notice: The next meeting will be Thursday, March 30, at 7:30 p.m. at the museum. The program will be about the Civil War. Jack Dressler, who is involved with re-enactment of Civil War battles, will be the speaker.

"A Very Special Art Show" will be sponsored by the Antioch Women's Club. On display will be original art works by Antioch High School students on Saturday, April 15, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.; and on Sunday, April 16, from noon to 4 p.m.

April is election of officers. The future of the society and museum depends upon everyone's participation.

No sewers mean low density in annexations

Antioch Twp. residents that attended the last regular meeting of the Antioch Village Board were told that there were no future plans to bring sewers to any of the new land east of Rte. 45, off of Rte. 173.

The fact that there would be no future sewerage of the new acres being annexed in that area was supposed to put property owners' minds at ease since it means that no high density development can take place.

In connection, the Antioch Village Board requested that Patricia Penn, owner of 45 acres on Rte. 45, north of Rte. 173, make a zoning change on her annexation petition from R-1 to agricultural so that more than one acre will be needed to build on.

The board told the township property owners that it was in the middle of considering proposals from applicants for the job of planner for the areas recently annexed.

In other business, the board:

— instructed the clerk to pay an insurance premium of $65,467 for village insurance running from May 1 to Dec. 31.

— gave permission for the American Legion to sell poppies on May 26, 27. The board also said that the VFW could do the same on June 30 and July 1.

— authorized the mayor and the clerk to sign a contract to purchase the Spartan 3-D Rescue Squad at a price of $209,436, funds to be supplied by the village.

— passed an ordinance annexing the 38-acre Spiro property on the northeast corner of Rte. 173 and Deep Lake Rd.

— authorized the mayor to sign the subdivision plat for the new AMOCO Service Station at the intersection of Rtes. 59 and 173.

Grand Jury saves drivers

The Lake County Grand Jury's review of two fatal accidents (Dec. 29, 1988, on Rte. 41 at Clavey Rd., and Jan. 18, 1989, on the Illinois Tollway) has concluded with a finding of no probable cause to charge the truck drivers, Richard Hall, 37, of South Carolina, and Donald Richter, 57, of Wisconsin, with the felony offense of Reckless Homicide.

This verdict concurs with the opinion of the Illinois State Police investigators, reflecting investigations by the Federal and Illinois Depts. of Transportation.

IS WALKING GOOD FOR THE SPINE?

ABSOLUTELY! Walking is very good exercise for the spine. The spinal vertebrae have little cushions in between one another called discs. These discs have a limited blood supply and are dependant on a process known as imbibition to obtain nutrients and oxygen and to remove waste products from the cellular structures that make up the disc. Imbibition occurs when the vertebra gently open and close during the walking mechanism.

Central county water system one year away

Four central Lake County communities—Arbor Vista, Wildwood, Vernon Hills and Knollwood—are one step closer to receiving Lake Michigan water.

A contract was approved this month by the County Board for the purchase and sale of water to users in these areas. This is one of the steps required to issue $35 million in bonds to construct the pumping and transmission facilities. It will be constructed in Lake Bluff at Rte. 176 east of Rte. 45, probably by next year.

The facility will be operated by the Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency. Chairman is Paul Neal, mayor of Libertyville. Temporary offices are now located in that community.

The agency will draw water from Lake Michigan and resell it to communities or areas now on water wells. The Wildwood and Arbor Vista systems are operated by the Lake County Public Works Dept. Those in Vernon Hills and Knollwood are village wells.

User fees yet to be established are expected to pay for continued operation and maintenance of the system and help pay off the construction bonds. Voters in the four areas targeted for service approved bonding for the new system in a referendum one year ago this month.

FOOT FACTS

From The
FOOT DOCTOR

Dr. Winters

Dr. Griff J. Winters & Assoc.

Specializing in Reconstructive Foot & Ankle Surgery

MORTON'S NEUROMA

A pinched nerve in the front of the foot, usually between the third and fourth toes can be a torment, because the problem is deep in the foot there is usually no visible sign. There are however a number of clues that lead to a diagnosis of a neuroma.

1. Burning in the ball of the foot
2. The feeling of walking on a stone or marble.
3. Numbness or tingling in the affected toes.
4. A sudden sharp pain in the forefoot that makes one want to remove the shoe and rub the foot.

5. Increased frequency of these stabbing attacks of pain.
6. Inability to be comfortable in most any shoe.
7. A pain that runs back through the foot and up the leg.
8. An attack that makes you quit golf after 8 or 9 holes.

If you have some of these symptoms you may have a benign tumor in your fore foot called a neuroma. It would be prudent to consult a podiatrist. If you have the above symptoms or any other foot discomfort, you may contact Dr. Winters for a NO COST CONSULTATION to see if there may be an answer to your foot pain.

Mundelein

The building housing the first Cub Foods store in Lake County, located on the southeast corner of Rtes. 45 and 60 in Mundelein, has been refinanced with a $4 million loan arranged by Baird and Warner. The Great West Life Assurance Co., Winnipeg, Manitoba, is the lender. Cherner has arranged three loans totaling approximately $14 million for Cub Foods facilities in the past six months.

Horse country

Master Max (right) was the first horse Michael and Linda Kelly, owners of Patch 22 and Kelly Stables in Wadsworth, imported. The area surrounding the Kellys' 22-acre farm is considered by the Illinois Dept. of Tourism to be the most scenic fall route in northern Lake County. Through Patch 22, the Kellys offer hayrides, barn parties, pony rides and a petting zoo.

Kellys, a business of horsing around

by KIM BOLTON
LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

Michael and Linda Kelly, owners of Patch 22 in Wadsworth, had a little Irish luck on their side when looking for a place to move their hayride and horse-related business.

The Kellys ran their business at its original location from their farm on Rte. 22 in Prairie View, hence the name Patch 22. They offered pony and hayrides which were given on the property across the street from their barn. The property was owned by a nursery and was perfect for riding, but when the nursery's owner passed away, it was sold to a developer who put up single-family homes.

The Kellys say developed areas don't work in their business simply because people like riding horses and taking hayrides in a country setting. They were forced to look for a new location for their business, but still had to keep in mind that the spot had to be country, yet easy to find.

After a six-year search for the perfect property, the Kellys found their farm, which happened to encompass 22 acres (so they could keep "Patch 22") and be located on a street named Kelly Rd. There was no question that this was the place they would settle with their two children. They moved to Wadsworth last May.

After moving, the Kellys found that Kelly Rd. was named after a man named Peter Kelly who owned the farm about 100 years earlier and was from Mayo County, Ireland, Michael's birthplace.

Besides offering horsedrawn hayrides through Patch 22, the Kellys have built a new barn specifically for party rental and gives pony rides at this location. Patch 22 also offers ponies and a petting farm for birthday parties, corporate and church picnics, etc. at different locations.

The Kellys have a separate business, Kelly Stables, which boards horses and offers Dressage and riding lessons. The stables are also home to the couple's nine five or six to add to their stock this spring.

Married for 12 years, the Kellys have been around farms all their lives. Linda grew up owning her own horse and Michael was raised with his eight brothers and sisters on a dairy farm in Ireland. At 19, he came to the United States.

The Kellys started Patch 22 in Prairie View while they were working unrelated full-time jobs. They owned a few horses and ponies and one day a man stopped and asked if it would be o.k. for his granddaughter to pet them. Linda said it was fine with her and she could relate to someone loving animals so much that they needed to stop and pet them.

This incident made the Kellys decide to give pony rides on the weekends. They later purchased a small tractor to pull hayrides and added Draught horses at the request of customers who were disappointed at not seeing them. These side businesses evolved into Patch 22 and became full-time careers for the Kellys.

"We got started because we both were horse lovers and thought it would be a neat way to make a living," Linda said.

Patch 22 business begins in April and keeps the Kelly family busy until winter begins. This year, the Kellys are especially looking forward to the Halloween season since the apple orchard on Kelly Rd. is offering haunted house tours through an old farm house on the property. According to Linda, a walk through a haunted house is especially scary when followed by a hayride down a dark country lane.

The number of Patch 22, located at Hwy. 41 and Kelly Rd. in Wadsworth, is (312) 336-0120 or 0670.

horses—a mixture of Irish Thoroughbreds and Irish Draughts that Michael imported from Ireland, and American drafts which he travels to Amish country to find.

Michael, who learned about horses from his father, an amateur steeplechase jumper, and his grandfather, a breeder of the Irish Draught, chooses his breeds for their big bones and gentle manner. He says they are great work horses and are safe for hayrides because they don't get over excited and jumpy.

Besides owning their beautiful farm and home in Wadsworth, the Kellys have another 50-acre farm in Salem, Wis. where they keep 25 ponies and their petting farm animals—a total of 30 goats, lambs, calves and bunnies—for the winter. They say they are always looking for well-mannered ponies and hope to find

Retaining employees expensive, benefits costly

by ALAN NADOLNA

Business owners are finding that retaining employees is getting increasingly expensive. While pay increases in recent years have not been significant, the costs of benefits have been escalating rapidly. Without a competitive benefits package, employers cannot depend on a stable, productive work force.

Medical costs overall are increasing at an annual rate of more than 20 percent. Government regulations have caused a doubling in the cost of maintaining retirements plans. A new regulation called "section 89" will, once effective, expose plan participants to tremendous potential tax liability.

Major corporations have been working to reduce benefit costs for several years, and have intensified these efforts in the past two years. Many of the methods used by the Fortune 1000 companies are being adopted by small and medium size employers.

So called "section 125" plans allows the payment of medical insurance and other premiums on a pre tax basis by employees. Pay is reduced by the amount of premium, and the employees taxable income is also reduced. These plans have enabled employers to painlessly pass on more of the cost of medical coverage to employees.

In addition, employees often find that their take home pay is increased when these deductions are made on a pre tax basis. These are actual plans, and must be designed and adopted before pre tax payments can be utilized.

A form of profit-sharing called 401K smaller firms, aided by newly developed 401K packages are beginning to benefit from this format. Many of our clients with as few as eight to 10 employees now have 401K plans.

In nearly every company there is a group, often small, of key employees. These are the individuals that make significant contributions to company growth and progress. It is these very develop tax revenues from the highly compensated employee group. Employer response has been to attempt to design plans that will not fall under the section 89 umbrella. The use of non-qualified benefits allows for selection of specific employees without consideration for discrimination. These programs also can be provided by employers on a totally cost-free basis using a concept known as cost recovery.

The use of new, innovative approaches to employee compensation and benefits is no longer restricted to major corporations. Many of our clients today are small to medium size employers, seeking the same kinds of cost savings and efficiencies as the major corporations.

This way to wealth has helped to make retirement plans more economical. The contributions to these plans are primarily made up of salary reductions. The contribution of the employer is limited to the level of matching that is selected.

In well designed plans employer contributions have been reduced by 50 to 60 percent from previous pension or profit-sharing plans. The 401K format has been well received by employees and participation has been excellent. Many employees who are most negatively affected by the changes in benefits in recent years.

IRS imposed reductions in pension benefits have reduced retirement incomes for the highly paid employee. Rank and file employees are able to retire on 70 to 80 percent of pre-retirement income (pension benefits plus social security), while executives are often looking at only 40 to 50 percent of pre-retirement income.

The new section 89 is designed to

Our Complaint Department Makes House Calls.

Got a question about your electrical service? Or maybe about those low, overhanging branches near your power lines? Or even about what's being done to utilize garbage as an alternative energy source?

Well, you couldn't have picked a better time to ask.

Because right now, throughout all of northern Illinois, Commonwealth Edison is sponsoring what we call Neighborhood Dialogue meetings.

It's a fancy name for something very simple. Some of us will come out to talk with some of you. To listen to your

Oh, and it's not only free. It's easy. To have an Edison representative come to your home or hall, just get a group of neighbors together and give us a call at 1-800-541-9691.

And don't be shy about putting together a tough list of questions.

After all, if you don't ask, you'll never learn. And neither will we.

Slight drop in hiring activity for Waukegan/Lake County

The springtime hiring activity for the Waukegan/Lake County area is expected to be down slightly, according to results of the newest Employment Outlook Survey from Manpower Inc., the world's largest temporary help service.

In announcing survey findings for the second quarter of 1989, Chuck Bartels, owner of Manpower's Waukegan/Lake County area operation, reported that 23 percent of the area employers polled expect to increase staff size in the coming April/May/June period, seven percent will downsize staff, and 70 percent will stay at current levels.

Last spring, by comparison, survey results showed 40 percent of those responding planning to add workers and seven percent anticipating workforce reductions. Three months ago, 30 percent were expecting employment rolls to grow and 13 percent intended to curtail staff.

Across the nation, the new survey figures indicated better job prospects than those in the Waukegan/Lake County area, as 30 percent of the nearly 14,000 employers polled envision staff increases and six percent expect a decline in the workforce. Here in the Midwest, 33 percent foresee an upsurge in hiring and five percent predict staff cutbacks.

Locally, hiring opportunities are planned in non-durable goods manufacturing, construction, the wholesale and retail trade and the services sector. Staff reductions are forecast in education. Durable goods producers have mixed hiring plans.

On a national level, employers are continuing their search for additional workers. It appears many firms are having difficulty recruiting the workers they need as labor market shortages are becoming increasingly widespread. This situation seems to be an extension of a general expansion that began in 1984 and persisted with marginal increases since that time.

The Midwest region is clearly the leading area, as the prospect of springtime weather accelerates the willingness to add staff. The Northeast and South are close to the national average and Western states lag somewhat behind.

STOP THE LEAK FIRST

Condemnation backlash

Lake County's burgeoning open space movement is in danger of being stopped in its tracks by a backlash of opposition to the use of condemnation to acquire public lands for recreational and open space purposes.

This is becoming more and more evident as commissioners of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. aggressively pursue purchase of vacant lands with the power of eminent domain as the keystone of acquisition.

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) is leading the opposition to condemnation by spouting charges of "dictatorship" and "shades of communism." One of Geo-Karis' favorite gambits is to charge, "Lake County isn't Russia." Forest Preserve commissioners favoring expansion of open space, who are presently in the majority, reply that what is being done is legal and that property owners are guaranteed market price through the safeguards of the lengthy and complicated condemnation process.

What they aren't addressing, however, is the problem of landowners who don't want to sell—to anyone, including the county. In this context, the Forest Preserve commissioners no matter how laudable their motives, come off as ogres and demigods. Most citizens, with the possible exception of hardline open space advocates, are sensitive to notions that government is riding roughshod over individual rights.

With Senator Geo-Karis branding the Forest Preserve majority as virtual card carrying communists on one hand and Forest Preserve open space advocates zealously pushing acquisition in the name of the public good and the vague heritage of future generations on the other hand, the pro and con sides have polarized. Geo-Karis even is pushing legislation to reign in the powers of Forest Preserve commissioners.

Clearly, if a sensible open space acquisition program is in the public interest—and we happen to believe that it is—the middleground has to be reached. Where are the voices of moderation?

Fortunately, those much needed voices of reason in the Lake County open space question that is entwined in practically every public policy at present, are out there. They just aren't being heard. One of the voices of moderation is Frank Sullivan, candidate for supervisor of Antioch Twp., where landowners around the Redwing Marsh are particularly incensed by actions of the county.

Sullivan, who is making open space an issue in his campaign, flatly states that preserving open space is worth the required monetary sacrifices. At the same time, though, Sullivan is speaking out against "routine" use of condemnation. We agree with Sullivan that there are available options to condemnation. We would like to see the Forest Preserve Dist. develop a first right of refusal land purchase plan coupled with a referendum feature where voters would have a voice. Sullivan admits that the land cost might be driven up, but he insists—and we agree—that the ultimate cost still will be less than in the present economic climate favoring growth and development.

Pro-growth politicians and the open space hardliners have been capturing the headlines. They have had their say and we know their stories. Now it's time to hear from the voices of moderation and reason.

Worthwhile budget

When it comes to state financing, there never seems to be enough money to go around. Thus, there were mixed feelings expressed about the budget of nearly $22 billion offered by Gov. James Thompson for Fiscal Year 1990.

The budget includes $4.5 billion for education, an eight-percent increase, or $344 million. Almost everyone agrees, except perhaps the taxpayers themselves, that this isn't enough. Nearly $100 million of the increase for education will come from an 18-cent increase in the cigarette tax and a new tax on other tobacco products, which is as good a place as any to get more income.

Thompson's call for a 44-percent increase in funding for the fight against drug and alcohol abuse was encouraging. All in all, the budget looked pretty good because it didn't include anything about that old bugaboo, the state income tax.

The budget included some worthwhile local projects that are good to see: $1 million for continuing implementation of dredging plan at Fox-Chain O' Lakes; $350,000 to rehabilitate lock at McHenry Lock and Dam; $250,000 to stabilize shoreline at Illinois Beach State Park; $3.2 million to develop a marina at North Point Marina; and $250,000 to rehabilitate state dams at the Fox River.

Letters To The Editor

Get out and vote

Editor:

Of almost 10,000 registered voters, only a whopping 2,700 people actually voted in Mundelein's most recent local election April 7, 1987. Only 27 percent voting means apathy is extremely high.

The election April 4, 1989, will have a direct influence on the following aspects of our daily lives: the amount of our monthly mortgage payments (most people pay 1/12th of the property tax bill each month to the lender); the quality of our drinking water and its price; how crowded our local classrooms are, therefore the quality of education our youngsters receive; the amount of time spent gridlocked on local roads, and therefore, the amount of personal time we have.

On Tuesday, April 4, from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. the polls will be open. Please take an active role in our country's democracy, rather than the passive role which is so prevalent in today's society.

Graham not God

Editor:

Open space, without a doubt, has been a necessary source of what we are today. But this path of open space must heed to certain moral, economic and ethical values. Indiscretion and greed changes open space from a healthy growth to an obsession of power at any cost.

Mike Graham has not been anointed by God, and his obsession with possession has become for many of us a very rattling experience.

His interpretation of open space can become an infestation like disease. Open space can become our personal enemy if not held in check.

Prevent these socialistic practices from infiltrating the system we hold so dear. A few steps backward can now atone for the price we have paid, and tax wise are yet to pay for, due to Graham's interpretation of open space and the common good.

Big money pressure

Editor:

Our rights and freedom as Libertyville Twp. residents are under attack.

The threat is the Libertyville Twp Taxpayers Party, whose attempt to defeat Mike Graham and the Conservative Citizens Environmental Party is shrouded in thinly disguised sponsorship by big-money pro-growth, pro-development interests.

The true colors of the LTTP were never more evident than in the recent debate sponsored by the League of Women Voters. Well coached by Jascula/Terman & Assn., a high-powered Chicago PR firm with close ties to the Home Builders Assn. of Greater Chicago, the LTTP candidates marched to the podium, prepared speeches in hand.

They wrapped their arguments, not on facts and logic, but in motherhood, apple pie, the flag and Constitution. In a show of Chicago-style politics, they repeatedly attacked Mike Graham and the Open Space Dist. for a supposed lack of leadership and waste of taxpayers' money. The LTTP's blindness to ethics was exemplified in their attempt to discredit Mike Graham by comparing him to a dictator and labeling him a Communist. Big time politicians can pick up pointers in bad taste from this group.

The LTTP couldn't mention that every pro-development, pro-growth group—the Home Builder's Assn. of Illinois, Realtors groups, big-money-backed Springfield lobbies, developer groups of every size and shape—have combined to dilute and destroy the Open Space Act in every way possible.

More obvious was the LTTP's ineptitude when its candidates strayed off prepared spiels. Once off track, LTTP candidates faltered, floundered, and stumbled like lost souls on a rudderless ship. A sorry lot compared to Mike Graham and the current Board of Trustees whose knowledge, thoroughness and commitment to the Township and Open Space Dist. is commendable.

Without Mike Graham and the Open Space Dist., we stand to lose all the things that we moved to Lake County for: an environment enhanced by open scenery, a lovely countryside, wildlife, unspoiled foliage, and clean air.

Protecting stagnation

Editor:

For the past several months, I have attended meetings, listened to various conservation groups, Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., Citizens for Conservation, Cuba Twp. Open Space Act, etc., expand on the preservation of marshes, wetlands, fens, river flood plains, creek area. Yet when you finalize the information they (open space advocates) you realize that what they really are saying is not the preservation of various unbuildable lands for flora and fauna/wildlife, but stagnation of various lands, be it farm land, homesites, or even land with established residences.

Maybe what they want is complete control of who can do what with their own property, which is apparently one of the possible circumstances that are indicated in the Open Space Act. If you won't sell or give to us, We Will Condemn Your Land!

I understand fully the concept of eminent domain powers benefiting the many, but possibly condemn useable land for a select few where there are areas that can be preserved and are presently again unbuildable is not in the best interest of all.

Then they tell us it won't cost you much!

Add to the possible tax requirements already in existence, who will take care of it? Who will monitor or police it? Who pays? You and I.

Once land is absorbed by the open space advocates what happens to the taxes that were being collected? Do they just disappear? Guess who will pay the eventual difference! I firmly believe in preservation and conservation, but at a reasonable and realistic approach. Why not approach the present land owner with a "99 year lease."

The various laws that are being enacted, such as Open Space Act, is the beginning of the erosion of our present right to choose or select where we want to live.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Township assessors, you either love or hate them. "Being an assessor is the most thankless job in the world," says Lake Villa Twp. Assessor Mike Karasinski.

Karasinski is on the bubble this election with two other candidates hot on his tail. The assessor of the past eight years is running as an independent because he wasn't asked to be on a ticket. The incumbent Lake Villa assessor is widely known for his "neighborhood factor" by which he values homes differently due to age, location or condition. "After all," he said, "a new home costs more and is worth more than one 20 or 30 years old just down the street."

Another Lone Ranger this election is Uno Larson of Ela Twp. He is running for re-election after admittedly being dumped by the incumbent slate. He denies it is for wholesale "drive-by" assessments in some parts of the township, but the fact he is too well known. "The assessor is a guy you love to hate," said someone in his office, "so those running against Larson are relative unknowns."

Why doesn't the Homebuilders Assoc. of Lake County like either Sup. Norman Geary of Avon Twp. or F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville Twp.

Neither were invited to the group's March dinner meeting. But their opponents in the April election were: Ralph Swank of Libertyville and Russell

Christian of Grayslake.

First, it should be known that Roger Gatewood, president of the builder group, has 120 acres in the Libertyville Twp. Open Space program he would like to develop. Graham warned the property is for trees and the bees, not homes and kids.

"It is fair to say that if Geary and I are defeated the open space movement in Lake government," Hansen said.

Hansen may have to eat his words. He is running again.

Some people accuse him of potential triple dipping. Hansen is an American government teacher at Zion-Benton Twp. High School. He is also a County Board member. Together they are

County is dead," Graham said. "This program was born here and the building industry would like to see it die here."

One of the familiar names on the April ballot in Grant Twp. is that of Adam Skrzenta. He has been a township trustee for 36 years.

Skrzenta goes back, way back. His service goes back to the days when trustees were working justices of the peace. Grant Twp. had four of them. Skrzenta held court two days a week. "I also married quite a few people," he added rather proudly.

After six years the state decided justices should be judges and township trustees be auditors. Ten years ago that was changed to the present-day title.

Frank Sullivan, who is running against incumbent Sup. Jim Fields in Antioch Twp., has a neat campaign idea.

It is a business-size card with his name on it and a piece of candy attached in cellophane with the words, "Your Vote is Worth a Mint." The message is all in green ink to go with the candidate's Irish surname.

But you can't use the idea without his okay. Sullivan's copyrighted it. He said one of his first customers will be Fields four years from now when the supervisor tries to win back the office Sullivan predicts he will gain in April.

When County Board member Bruce Hansen ran for Ela Twp. supervisor in 1984 he decried "double dipping." That's the practice of feeding more than once a payday at the government trough. "Double dipping is bad good for $55,000 a year.

Now, he wants the job of Ela Twp. supervisor held by Robert Grever. That's worth almost another $30,000.

Congressman John Porter (R-Wilmette) wants to be everyone's politician. He is touting a survey by the National Journal saying he is among the most conservative members of Congress on economic issues.

Porter is among 27 House members and five senators scoring perfect in the eyes of the independent weekly publication that covers Congress.

This follows a "best score" of 91 percent in a 1987 ranking by the National Taxpayers Union for his record on budgetary restraint. Porter has also been recognized for his votes to control federal spending by receiving the Golden Bulldog six times from the independent Watchdogs of the Treasury.

In Lindenhurst an upstart Citizens Action Party is shaking the establishment.

Formed last November to protest rising taxes at nearby Millburn Grade School and those of a newly-formed village park district, the party has a full slate for the April village election.

"We've already forced the resignation of three officials," Chairman Robert Warrender claims. They are village Atty. Paul Phillips as president of the Millburn School Board after conflict of interest charges, Millburn Supt. Lee Smithy blamed for rising school taxes and, last month, Trustee Jeff Lind who has not lived in Lindenhurst since October.

Save this lovely land

by ANDREA KENT

If some rapacious land-developer built townhouses on Mount Rushmore, everyone would be horrified. If a rich builder proposed a subdivision for Yosemite, public opinion would force him into hiding. And if an auto dealer put a showroom in the Grand Canyon, the nation would rise in fury.

But here in Lake County, something almost as outrageous is happening, and only a few public-spirited citizens are trying to stop it. Our beautiful woodlands and prairies are being paved over. Subdivisions, gas stations, fast-food joints, and shopping centers are being put up by people who see beauty only in profit.

Who are these people? In Libertyville, they call themselves the Taxpayers' Party, but you can think of them as the Concrete Bloc. They certainly aren't ordinary citizens: they can afford to erect shopping centers and subdivisions. They're supporting candidates for the upcoming local elections--candidates, who, like their backers, want to cover every square inch of Lake County with concrete. They oppose the preservation of open space and the acquisition of land by the Forest Preserve Dist. They're fighting for the "right" of builders to bulldoze our heritage.

If you're like most county residents, you live in Lake County because you love the tranquility of the countryside, or because you want to raise your children far here--in traffic jams created by the policies of such people.

This issue isn't being faced by Lake County alone. All across the United States, counties are besieged by developers. The enlightened ones work to make sure that open spaces are preserved forever; the careless ones look like New Jersey. Nationally, the trend is toward preservation, away from development.

Here's how four enlightened counties handle development:

--In Montgomery County, Md., a collar county of Washington D.C., developers must minimize the effect their projects have on local roads, schools, and ecology. If a development will create more traffic, the developer must pay to improve local roads; if schools will be burdened with more children, the developer must compensate for that. Large and valuable expanses of the county are kept untouched.

--In Westchester County, N. Y., a collar county of New York City, nearly a third of the county is kept in parkland. Few trees are cut down during construction, so the county remains lushly wooded. Developers often cluster houses together, leaving more land open. Variances are sometimes granted, but only after paying into a parkland-acquisition fund. As a result, Westchester is famous as one of the most beautiful counties in the nation.

--In Routt County, Colo., developers take part in the Colorado Joint Review Process, demonstrating that their projects will not have a negative ecological impact. The process can take years and involves dozens of state, county, and federal agencies, ensuring that no careless development takes place. The beauty of the region is being preserved.

--Litchfield County, Conn., one of the loveliest parts of the northeast, is fighting off developers with tough zoning and building requirements. New projects are infrequently approved.

How can you make sure Lake County isn't desecrated by developers? In the upcoming April 4 elections, voters who believe that land should remain open for recreation, for wildlife, and for sheer visual pleasure should vote to save this lovely land. Libertyville Twp. Supervisor and Lake County Board member F.T. "Mike" Graham, with the support of a majority of board members, will work hard to keep our county green and peaceful for many years to come.

Kent grew up in Libertyville, Lake Bluff and Gurnee, and is a graduate of Lake Forest High School and the Univ. of Illinois/Chicago. Yorktown is 50 miles north of New York City.

from the city. But if the developers aren't stopped, there won't be anyplace you can go have a picnic with your kids, go cross-country skiing, or take a mind-clearing hike.

We're losing a way of life here. The last working dairy farm in the county closed down 10 years ago. Cars are being sold on land where raccoons once grazed. Great mansions, which might have served the people as meeting houses or art galleries, have been demolished.

Changes like these are irrevocable. Nobody ever tears down a shopping mall and plants grass. If it's built, you're stuck with it, whether it's ugly or not, whether it creates a traffic nightmare or not.

The Concrete Bloc will tell you that development is good. Of course, every county needs some commercial zones. But if we don't limit growth, Lake County will be built up, little by little, until it looks like northern New Jersey--once beautiful, but now a man-made desert stinking from truck exhaust, chemical storage tanks, and landfills.

It's ironic. When rich developers and their backers tire of Lake County's congestion, they can fly to Vail or Palm Springs to escape it. But most Lake Countians can't do that. They're stuck

Consider quality, enjoyment when purchasing equipment

Selecting quality equipment from a reputable manufacturer, and finding an activity you'll enjoy doing for a long time, are two important considerations when buying at-home exercise equipment.

Exercising at home is increasing because many people, particularly baby boomers who have demanding careers and families, just don't have the time to go to a club to work out.

In addition, running and high-impact aerobics are on the wane due to the high injury rate caused by repeated pounding.

At-home exercise equipment allows you to maintain a program of regular aerobic exercise, no matter what the weather or your schedule.

Because at-home exercise equipment is an important investment in your future health, experts recommend that you first do some research.

It is a good idea to try out the equipment at a local health club. Or, if the equipment is sold through direct marketing, make sure the company stands behind it.

In addition, Consumer Reports and various fitness-oriented magazines offer reviews of the most popular types of exercise equipment.

Experts suggest asking yourself the following questions:

• Is the machine

functionally aesthetic? It shouldn't be jerky, uncomfortable or awkward. Look for something that doesn't break down or need a lot of maintenance.

• Does it meet the fitness goals you've set for yourself? A fitness program should cover the entire body, not just the legs. For example, if using a stationary bicycle, another exercise is needed for the upper body.

• Is the equipment something you enjoy using? If not, you won't use it.

The most popular piece of exercise equipment today is probably the cross-country ski machine, which can tone the entire body and will provide a complete cardiovascular workout in as little as 20 minutes a day, three times a week.

No matter what type of indoor exercise equipment is chosen, don't forget about getting outside, weather and conditions permitting, for some fresh air and a change of scenery. Biking, swimming or a brisk walk add needed variety to a regular exercise program.

Family room exercise option

One of the most popular trends in home design is flexibility. Rooms are no longer designed for one purpose, but accommodate a wide range of activities. A case in point is the family room. Not just a rec room for children or the neighborhood "football lounge," it's often changed into a local "theater" for watching television or videos. It also can double as an at-home health spa for people who find exercise the perfect jolt in the morning or a favorite way to unwind after a busy day.

The problem with including exercise equipment in a family room is that it often takes up needed space. This problem can be solved by creating an exercise nook in a recess of one corner. While out of the way, the nook has a full view of the room. This space can be closed off with a decorative screen so that the exercise equipment is out of sight, too.

More decorating ideas are featured in the Plywood Paneling Council's free booklet, "New Wall Styles." To order, send a stamped self-addressed No. 10 envelope to the Plywood Paneling Council, 1633 Broadway, New York, NY 10019.

Beware

From the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta comes a new guarantee to encroach upon the complacency of couch potatoes everywhere: A totally sedentary lifestyle may be as much a risk factor for heart disease as high blood pressure, a high cholesterol level or smoking a pack of cigarettes a day.

When

Should You Have Your Child's Eyes Examined?

Most people think about having a routine dental check-up or physical exam for their children, but it is also important to have vision checked early in life. Many unsuspected vision problems can be present which may not be diagnosed until a school age vision screening is done—which is often too late for optimal treatment.

Vision develops in a child from the time he is born until around age 5 or 6. Anything interrupting this normal vision development can cause vision loss which can last a lifetime if not treated.

When should a normal child have a complete eye exam? An ideal time is between age 3 and 4. At this age a child is usually old enough to play our simple vision games, yet young enough to begin treatment if a problem is found.

If any problems are noticed anytime in infancy or childhood—crossing or drifting, squinting, visual inattentiveness, a white pupil, redness, or tearing—an exam is necessary no matter what the age. Vision and ocular health can be assessed even in very young infants.

If there is any family history of eye problems, especially crossing or lazy eye, a check-up early in life is essential.

Remember, the vision your child develops during the first five years of life will carry him through a lifetime.

Wholesome at-your-desk snacks

A large percentage of food products in the United States are now in single-serve or small-size convenience packs, reflecting the mobile, fast-paced lifestyles of today.

The growing number of interesting single-serve snacks and foods means you no longer need to pack carrot and celery sticks when you want a healthy and wholesome at-your-desk snack.

An apple or banana, of course, is perfect. However, sometimes you want a snack that's a bit more interesting and satisfying, but still wholesome.

Here are some new desk snack ideas that are now available in single-serve packs and containers;

•For those cold afternoons, when nothing suits you like soup, there are ready-to-eat cups of soup. The soups come in their own plastic foam cups, and require only hot water. Many varieties are available, from Chicken to Oriental Noodle;

•Already a big hit with kids, new fruit snacks - chunky apple sauce with pieces of strawberries, pineapples, peaches or cherries - have a chunky texture and delicious taste that also appeal to adults;

•A new twist on an old theme: Crackers and cheese are now available in vacuum-packed containers that even come with their own knives;

•For that mid-afternoon pick-me-up, fruit juices come in boxes that need no refrigeration. Exciting variations on old fruit juice themes: Apple Raspberry juice, Apple Cranberry juice, Apple Grape juice.

Fiber lowers cholesterol

High cholesterol is a major cause of heart disease, which is the number one killer in the U.S., claiming more than half a million lives annually.

According to David Klurfeld, Ph.D., associate professor at the Wistar Institute in Philadelphia, five million people have diagnosed heart disease, while 20 to 30 million go undiagnosed. The total health care cost associated with the disease is around $8 billion per year.

"Soluble fiber, found in fruits, vegetables, oat bran and psyllium products, can be extremely effective in lowering serum cholesterol," said Dr. Klurfeld.

At a recent symposium on fiber sponsored by the University of Delaware's Dept. of Nutrition and Dietetics, Dr. Klurfeld told nutritionists that a healthy, low-fat, high-fiber diet, with the help of oat bran or certain over-the-counter soluble fiber products, is less costly and, in many cases, may be just as effective as cholesterol-lowering drugs.

Exercise leads to healthy heart

Exercise is one of the most effective safeguards against America's number one killer—cardiovascular disease—says the National Exercise for Life Institute. In 1986, heart disease claimed the lives of 978,500 Americans or one every 32 seconds, according to the American Heart Assn. (AHA).

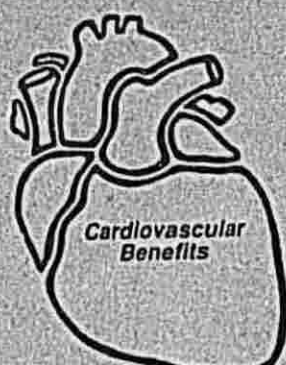

Today, 65.9 million Americans have cardiovascular disease, and the AHA estimates that more than 500,000 Americans will die from heart attacks this year.

The main cause of heart disease is atherosclerosis, a slow build-up of cholesterol and fatty tissue in the arteries. Eventually, your arteries harden and narrow as the build-up increases restricting blood flow. When the arteries supplying blood to the heart muscle narrow to about two-thirds of their normal width, you may be candidate for a heart attack.

However, the good news is that healthier lifestyles and preventive medicine can help deter cardiovascular disease. Experts say that the best way to prevent the disease is to stop smoking, lower your blood pressure, eat a proper diet (in order to reduce your blood cholesterol levels) and engage in regular aerobic exercise.

Aerobic exercise involves continuous and rhythmic physical motion that elevates your heart rate to 70 to 85 percent of its maximum capacity. Examples

Exercise Leads to a Healthy Heart

- Raises HDL (good) cholesterol
- Lowers LDL (bad) cholesterol
- Reduces triglyceride levels
- Lowers blood pressure and reduces risk of hypertension
- Reduces risk of premature hardening of the arteries
- Strengthens heart and lungs
- Important for long-term weight management
- Greatly lowers risk of adult diabetes are brisk walking, swimming, cycling, jogging and cross-country skiing. To be effective, it generally needs to be done about half an hour, three days a week.

"The toughest part of exercising is keeping it up week after week. Many people who start a new exercise regimen don't stick with it because of boredom, lack of time, or choosing the wrong activity," explains DeMarco.

"When choosing your exercise program, select an aerobic activity you really enjoy. Then make a contract with yourself to work out regularly. Try to anticipate excuses for not exercising, and find answers to deal with them. Finally, set goals for yourself and keep a log of your progress," continues DeMarco.

DeMarco also advises that people consult with their physician before embarking on an exercise program.

Today, many people's personal exercise programs include cross-training, which combines in-home exercise equipment such as a cross-country ski exercise machine with outdoor exercises. Cross-training allows for variety in an individual's exercise program.

The purpose of the National Exercise for Life Institute is to collect and disseminate information about the many benefits of regular aerobic exercise, in order to convince more Americans to start and maintain a program of regular aerobic exercise.

For more information on the benefits of regular aerobic exercise, call the National Exercise for Life Institute at (612)448-3094.

Good taste

Now that we've all consumed tons of corned beef and cabbage and drank our fill of green beer and Irish coffee in honor of St. Patrick, 'tis time we gave the other ethnic eateries a chance.

Whether it's traditional cuisine or red cabbage and rouladen or wiener-schnitzel, the food at the Wunder Bar (which celebrated its 10th anniversary) on Rte 173 just north of Antioch, is "wunderfull!"

This is a stretch of the ethnic bit, but the Chuckwagon buffet at Maravella's in Fox Lake makes for a hardy "man's" meal. The Texas style ribs and BBQ, the chili and the border taco bar make-up for real "stick to the ribs" dinner.

Here's a restaurant that will do your Easter cooking for you. Chef Carl's Edelweiss Inn in Libertyville will cook a ham or a prime rib au jus roast to your specifications.

For a Polish-American smorgasbord, there's the Warsaw Inn in McHenry.

With Italian food at the top of the list for most popular ethnic food, there's Sabatini's in Long Lake or the new Olive Gardens in Vernon Hills.

For delicious French cuisine, Dylan's in Wilmet, Wis. serves dishes to please even the most particular Frenchman. In that vein, the top of the French gourmet line has to be Le Titi de Paris on Dundee Rd.

Be there!

For Lake County cat lovers --- The North Shore Cat Club will be presenting its 38th annual cat show, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., on April 1-2, at the Lake County Fairgrounds.

On Sunday, April 2, speaker Dick Massey will narrate a wildlife film, "Nature along the Border," at the Woodstock Opera House, at 2 p.m.

At the Barrington Arts Council Gallery, a display of Joyce Lea's mixed media collage plus Dennis Kirchmann's ceramics make an interesting display.

On Stage

This is the last weekend at Andre's Dinner Theatre in Richmond, for Rosebud Productions' "The Cliffhanger." When the curtain drops on this one it will drop on the restaurant's winter theater season.

The classic murder mystery, "Wait Until Dark," opens at the Pheasant Run Dinner Theatre at the end of this month.

The Civic Opera Bldg. in Chi-town is celebrating its 60 years of bringing the best in the arts to our area. At 7 p.m., on Tuesday, March 28, the famed Joffrey Ballet will open its revival performance there.

Rosebud Productions out at Andre's Dinner Theatre in Richmond is playing the last two weekends, not only of the current production, "Cliffhanger," but of their winter season.

The Pullman Players are continuing their version of the British farce "The Real Inspector Hound," at the Wauconda High School, at 8 p.m., on Friday and Saturday.

Easter feast takes traditional touch

Easter is the most important holiday in the Christian religion and calls for rejoicing, celebrating and feasting. It celebrates the rebirth of Christ and the renewal of nature.

Lamb is often served on the feast of Easter. The lamb offering symbolizes Christ as the Lamb of God.

Whole roast lamb or sheep is still prepared in villages in the Holy Land on special ceremonial occasions and family festivities. The outdoor barbecue spit is set up in the garden or rigged up on the beach.

However, a leg of lamb is much easier to prepare than a whole, stuffed lamb and will easily fit in the oven. Here is a recipe for oven-roasted leg of lamb with herb paste that will serve 10 to 12 people on Easter Sunday.

Easter weekend also includes egg decorating, egg rolling and Easter egg hunts. Adults who want bright-colored eggs for Easter don't have to dye them or buy foil-wrapped eggs left by chocolate bunnies.

Nature produces the brightest eggs of all, "caviar," with the help of the most ancient symbol of fertility—the fish. To bring joy to adult palates while kids are hunting for those chocolate and brightly dyed eggs, try Easter Egg Surprise.

Oven-Roasted Leg
of Lamb
With Herb Paste

1 leg of lamb, 4 to 5 lbs.
Parsley, for garnish

Herb Paste

2 cloves garlic, crushed
1 tsp. ground rosemary
Salt and pepper, to taste
1 jigger brandy or sherry
Juice of 1 lemon
1 cup chopped fresh mint

In small bowl, mix all ingredients for herb paste. Remove any excess fat from the leg of lamb, and discard. Rub the lamb all over with the herb paste. If possible, wrap it in a plastic bag and leave it in the refrigerator for a few hours.

Preheat the oven to 450 degrees. Roast the lamb for about 2 hours. Turn off the heat, and let the roast rest for 15 minutes, allowing juices to congeal and making carving easier.

Slice the lamb and serve with pan juices as a gravy. Or, thicken the gravy with cornstarch and water mixed into a paste, or with a prepared gravy mix. Garnish with parsley.

Serves 10 to 12.

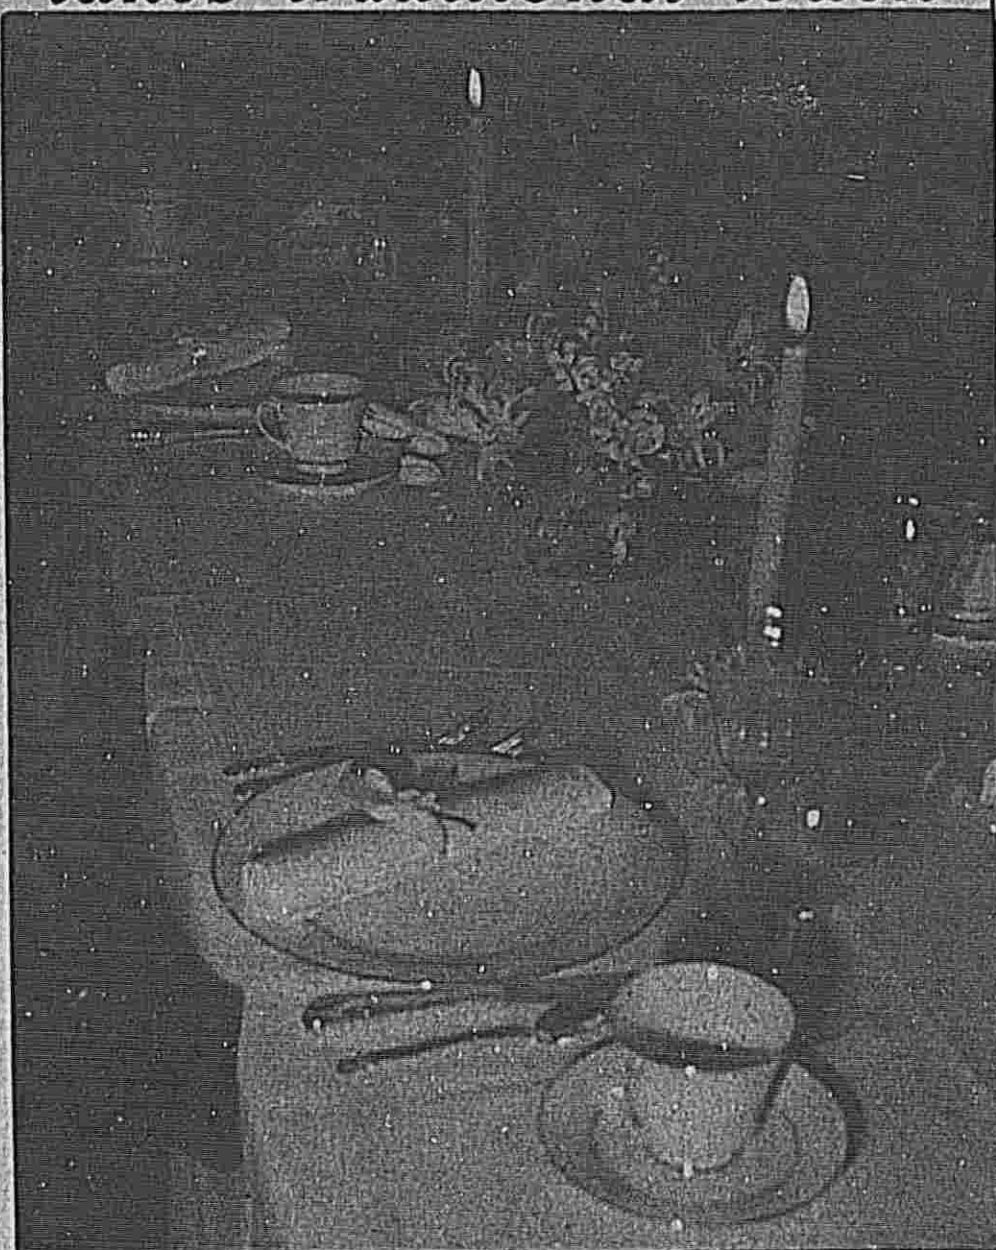

Easter Egg
Surprise

4 white hen's eggs
4 Tbls. caviar
Pepper to taste
4 egg cups

Hard-cook eggs by covering them with cold water and bringing them slowly to a simmer. Remove from heat, cover, and let sit 20 minutes. Drain and cover with cold water until the shells are cool. With a sharp knife, slice off the pointed end of each egg far enough up to remove the contents and yet retain most of the shell.

Finely chop together white and yolk and season with pepper. Pack each shell with a tablespoon of caviar, then the chopped egg. Reverse the shells into egg cups. Set each place with a sharp knife to crack the shell and a small spoon to remove contents.

Serves 4.

Easter, a formal occasion

One of the special holiday dinners of the year is served on Easter Sunday. This is the perfect day to break out the good china, fine linens and the family silver. Yellow and white fresh spring flowers add to the festivity of an Easter table. Amber crystal and yellow ribbons on the napkins tie-up the spring theme. The tablesetting is from the Westosha BPW's Tablesetting Contest. Fill those china plates with succulent lamb, slices of Trinity Bread, topped off with a caviar filled Easter egg. Recipes below.—Photo by Gloria Davis

Glazed Easter Trinity Bowl Bread

4 to 4 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
2 packages dry yeast or quick-rise yeast
1/3 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup water
1/3 cup milk
1/3 cup butter or margarine
2 eggs
2 Tbls. grated lemon rind
1 jar (10 oz.) maraschino cherries, well drained and halved (about 1 cup).

Glaze (optional):

1 cup sifted powdered sugar
1 tsp. softened butter or margarine
1-2 Tbls. hot water

In large mixer bowl, combine 1 1/2 cups flour, yeast, sugar and salt; mix well. In saucepan, heat water, milk and butter until very warm (120-130 degrees; butter does not need to melt). Add to flour mixture. Add eggs. Blend at low speed until moistened; beat 3 minutes at medium speed. By hand, gradually stir in lemon rind, cherries and enough remaining flour to make a firm dough. Knead on floured surface until smooth and elastic (5 to 8 minutes). Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place until light and doubled, about 1 hour (30 minutes for quick-rise).

Punch down dough. Divide into 3 parts. Shape each third into a smooth ball. On greased large cookie sheet, place 3 balls together in shape of a cloverleaf. Cover; let rise until double, about 45 minutes (25 minutes for quick-rise). Bake at 375 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. If too dark, cover loosely with foil last 5 to 10 minutes of baking. Remove from cookie sheet; cool. Drizzle with powdered sugar. Glaze and garnish with chopped nuts and cherries, if desired.

Yield: one large coffee bread.

Mint Watercress
Chutney Topper

Mint is traditionally served with lamb. For those who want extra mint flavor added to the taste of mint, take 2 cups chopped fresh mint leaves, 3/4 cup chopped watercress leaves, 1/2 cup minced onion, spiced up with one tablespoon of minced gingerroot, teaspoon of fresh lemon juice, 2 teaspoons minced lemon zest, dash minced jalapeno chili pepper, dash sugar and minced fresh garlic. Combine everything to serve alongside lamb. Serve immediately or refrigerate covered for a few hours until ready for use. Will keep several days in the refrigerator.

Food is best part of cruise

by DENNIS AND MARY O'BRIEN

We did not choose the Lakeland cruise line for the food alone, but if we had, we would have chosen the Costa Riviera.

Breakfasts are varied and bountiful. One could spend a month on board and not have the same breakfast twice. Have it in bed if you wish, or greet the sunrise on deck with an espresso and brioche.

At lunch, the salad bar crackles with nutritional delights. There is fresh fish and plump omelettes, wonderful soups and lovingly made pastas.

There'll be strolling musicians in the Portofino Restaurant, and dinner dancing to the ship's orchestra. One might begin with some Prosciutto ham and melon, or perhaps little pearls of golden caviar—with chilled vodka, of course. Then prime rib or steak or lobster—or pheasant or King salmon, Baked Alaska, or Crepes Suzette?

One night there'll be a Festa Italiana, with dishes from every region of Italy. And, of course, there's a pizzeria right on board with fresh pizza whenever one wants it.

Everyone is glad for the ship's sauna, well-equipped gym and daily aerobics class!

Rafting the Grand Canyon's mighty Colorado River

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Anyone who has visited the Grand Canyon has marveled at its depth. Looking down from the rim, what appears as a small rock below can be actually 30 stories high! But unless you have looked up at canyon walls rising 3,000, and at times less than a tenth of a mile apart, you don't know how awesome this natural wonder can be!

Rafting the mighty Colorado is the way to experience the true grandeur on a sandy beach alongside a cascading waterfall, with a bright moon peering over the black canyon walls. You can just make out a bighorn sheep on a rocky ledge high above.

Of course, there is the thrill of whitewater. You'll run some 60 rapids before your trip is over. Hence, Horn Creek, Granite, Hermit and Crystal are the names of a few you will remember for a lifetime. And then there's Lava Falls. These rapids are rated from 1 to 10, increasing in difficulty. Lava Falls is a perfect 10, with its 37-foot drop!

While running the Colorado's powerful rapids may be the ultimate in excitement, it is safe. Professional outfitters have been guiding trips down this river for over 35 years. Safety takes precedence over every decision. While children under 12 are not usually allowed, there is no upper age limit. Seniors are quite common on these trips.

A complete run of the canyon is a 12-day trip. Shorter trips are available, but require a helicopter lift out of the canyon or an eight-hour hike. Most tours include all camping gear, rafting equipment, licensed guides and top quality meals. Buffet breakfasts, for example, consist of Eggs Benedict, omelets, pork chops, blueberry pancakes and more.

Trips are offered between April and October and book up very quickly. Booking a year in advance is not uncommon. Plan on spending about $1,200 for a 6-day trip, and $1,700 for a full run.

David Pasquesi, Joel Murray

Critic's Choice

by TOM WITOM

The new revue at Second City, the nightclub, which for years has defined what satire's all about, gets off to a rousing start as the comedy troupe concentrates on what it does best.

"The Gods Must Be Lazy" or "There's More to Life Than Death" starts with a homeless man and a yuppie, played by David Pasquesi and Joel Murray, in a sparkling dissection of current events. Their newspaper fresh topical banter, covering politics, religion, business and much in between, is highly entertaining.

Unfortunately, the seven-member cast loses much of its inertia as the evening progresses. There are some bright spots, such as a brief improvisational skit in the first half and, later, a humorous sendoff of the Gods of Mount Olympus featuring a jazz-blues-pop ensemble in concert at "Pandora's Box." But the revue gets bogged down in overly long sketches and limps through some tired material (i.e., the waiting room of an AIDS clinic).

Instead of building to a grand finale, the revue ends in a disappointing whimper.

The script also seems to rely more heavily these days on the use of coarse language. Where an occasional vulgarity may still have impact, liberal use of the device is both weak and unoriginal.

Produced by Joyce Slaone and directed by Del Close, "The Gods Must Be Lazy" is scheduled for an open run at Second City, 1616 N. Wells, Chicago. Performances are Sunday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 9 p.m. and Friday and Saturday at 8:30 and 11 p.m.

Obituaries

Father Pierce John Gilmartin

Fr. Gilmartin was born in Chicago on June 20, 1922, the son of the late Michael and Catherine (Igoe) Gilmartin.

After attending St. Dorothy School in Chicago, Fr. Gilmartin went to the Carmelite Prep Seminary at Niagara Falls, Ont., and after completing his high school courses, entered the Carmelite Novitiate in New Baltimore, Pa. He professed his first vows there on Aug. 15, 1941. He then returned to Mt. Carmel College in Niagara Falls for philosophy studies, and then began his theology studies at Whitefriars Hall in Washington, D.C. He professed his solemn vows there on Oct. 8, 1944. On June 6, 1947, Fr. Gilmartin returned to Chicago for ordination to the priesthood. The following year he was assigned to teach at Mt. Carmel High School here. In 1949, Fr. Gilmartin was one of the pioneer Carmelite missionaries who went to Chile from the Canadian-American Carmelite Province. From 1949-52, he was an assistant pastor at Cure of Ars parish in Santiago, and from 1952-1958, he was pastor there. When the Carmelites expanded to a second parish, San Miguel, in Santiago Fr. Gilmartin was named pastor. He served there from 1958-66.

After completing his work as a missionary in South America in 1966, Fr. Gilmartin returned to the U.S. and accepted a post teaching Spanish at Carmel High School. During this time he also served as the Spanish-speaking "pastor" of West Lake County and did extensive pastoral work among the Hispanic people of the area.

Fr. Gilmartin also did undergraduate work in Education from Canisius College in Buffalo, N.Y., and graduate work in Spanish and Philosophy at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C., and in Education at the National College of Education.

He is survived by one sister, Mary (Dr. Russell) Dismeier, and one brother, Michael, as well as two nieces, Gilmarty (Gary) Coover, and Mari Carol (Michael) Roche.

PETER KRISTAN FUNERAL HOME in Mundelein is in charge of funeral arrangements.

Thank You

I wish to thank everyone very much for all the beautiful cards, flowers and phone calls I received on my 96th birthday. You all made my day very happy. Mrs. Bessie Riita.

HARDIN

208-18 Hardin
By Landmark Designs

FLOOR PLAN

Built with a sky-lit covered pool in its central courtyard, the Hardin is a recreational "cabin" type home, designed as a vacation get-away for ownership by two couples. Its two master suites allow both couples to be there at the same time and still have plenty of privacy. The rest of the octagon-shaped house offers a variety of spacious areas for socializing, guests, and just plain easy living.

A broad double entryway opens directly onto the pool area. In fact, it's necessary to re-enter the pool room in order to move from any one area of the house to another but at the same time, all rooms can be closed off from it. Both master suites and the den have windows facing inward to the pool. With each of four bathrooms but a few steps away, it's easy to change and be into the pool in a flash.

The living room takes access a step further with two sets of sliding glass doors which can be left open for entertaining. Outward-facing windows ring the five-sided vaulted great room. Four skylights add to the flood of natural light. There's also plenty of space here to install a free-standing woodstove for added warmth and as a focal point for cozy evenings.

While the octagon-shaped, 20-foot high central courtyard could just as easily be richly planted as greenhouse of quiet park-like inner garden, it's designed for a 30-foot long lap-sized pool and spa. For owners who like having even more fitness options, the den can house exercise equipment, pool or ping pong tables, and/or a big-screened television and VCR. Or it could be used simply as another guest room for visiting family and friends.

A large utility room, with pantry, is located near the garage for easy access. Additional storage is also available in the long double garage.

For a study plan of the Hardin (208-18), send $5.00 to Landmark
Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene,
OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering).
Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Feelings and emotions are unsettling now, but the general business climate is favorable.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Yank over unimportant issues may get on your nerves. Be health conscious and stay with activities which are good for you. Don't overdo anything.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Inventive ideas pay off. Use established procedures to introduce ideas. Keep quality in mind as well as quantity. Look for new opportunities.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) You are at the top of the popularity list. Being overly confident can cause you to make risky moves. Test the waters before you jump in.

Cancer (June 22 to Jul. 21) Don't be a yes person. Tell it like it is, and take a straight approach. Use respect as an expression of approval. Be courteous when necessary.

Leo (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Heed the advice of an expert. You are gaining financial independence. It is time to exchange phone numbers with that someone special. Be positive.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Keep a low profile and avoid cranky cohorts. Put off the answer to an important question until you investigate further. Keep your eyes open.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Add interesting innovations to work procedures and avoid boredom. A festive evening could spill over into the early morning hours.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) It is a hummer when you are in a job that you feel is insignificant or worthless. Make an assessment and prepare for gradual yet steady change.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Someone important may be giving you the royal treatment. Be sure to look your best. Now is the time to pursue romantic interests.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Keep your eyes open for a spicy, romantic partner. Avoid making comparisons. This could be the start of something extraordinarily great.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You may feel that your sex life is sliding down hill. Try the gourmet routine, instead of fast food. Be a better listener, and understand more.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Avoid activities that put your safety at risk. You may feel that you can get away with more than you really can at this up-and-down time.

If You Were Born Today
You are bright and have an above average mental capacity. Your communicative abilities are strong. Also, your power to invent, create and be versatile is apparent. If formal education isn't for you, look for others ways to garner knowledge, like practical experience.

Pet of the Week

Will the real Edison please stand up?

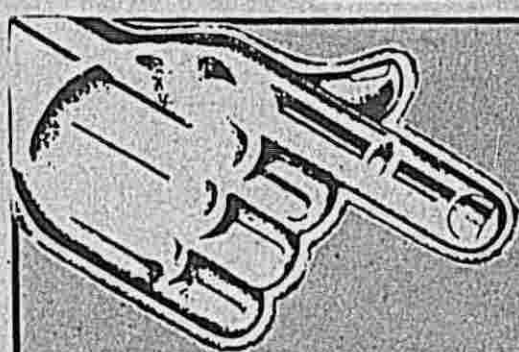

Prince (above) was mistakenly identified as Edison (right) in last week's Pet of the Week. Prince is a two-year-old cocker spaniel who belongs to the Gullaksen family of Lake Zurich. His favorite activities include playing tag, squirrel watching and hanging out with best friend Max.

Edison, belonging to Cathy Burns of Lake Villa, is three years old. He feels that the time best spent during winter is that spent in Florida; however, he is willing to settle for snuggling under the blankets for a long winter's nap.

All-Star Lancers

College of Lake County's men and women's basketball teams were both represented in the NJCAA Region IV All-Star basketball game at Triton College. All stars from the women's team were Jennifer Robison and Karen Whalen. Don Kiesgen, an all-Skyway Conference team member, represented the men's team.

Sexton helps NIU

Antioch High School graduate Julie Sexton may have started her career at Northern Illinois University playing softball, but this winter she has expanded her horizons to collegiate basketball. Sexton, in four games, made six of seven field goal tries for the Huskies. Mid-season injuries allowed Sexton to have the unusual chance to pursue both her softball and basketball interests at NIU. NIU was 18-3 through 21 games and a perfect 9-0 in North Star Conference action.

Three-on-three tourney

Mundelein High School will host a three-on-three basketball tournament April 8. Nine divisions will be offered. They are for boys: fifth and sixth grade; seventh and eighth grade; junior-senior high school; frosh-soph high school; open (19-34 years) and senior (over 35 years). In the girls-women age groups, junior high (seventh and eighth grade), high school (freshmen through senior) and open (19 and up).

The entry fee per team is $30 and may be made payable to Denny Kessel, 1350 W. Hawley, Mundelein. For more information, call Kessel at (312) 949-6857 or Perry Wilhelm (312) 949-2194. Games will begin at 9 a.m.

Seek golfers

Lake County residents are invited to join Waukegan Mayor Bob Sobonjian to take a swing against cystic fibrosis at the sixth annual Lake County Golf Outing on Aug. 23 at the Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth.

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is looking for sponsors, donations and golfers. For more information, call Cheryl at 1-800-824-5064.

Gooch on team

Scott Gooch of Antioch is a member of the first Lakeland Newspapers all-area second team. Although Gooch's name was listed in the story, an improper picture appeared in last week's editions. The sports editor regrets any inconvenience.

MHS gymnasts ahead of schedule

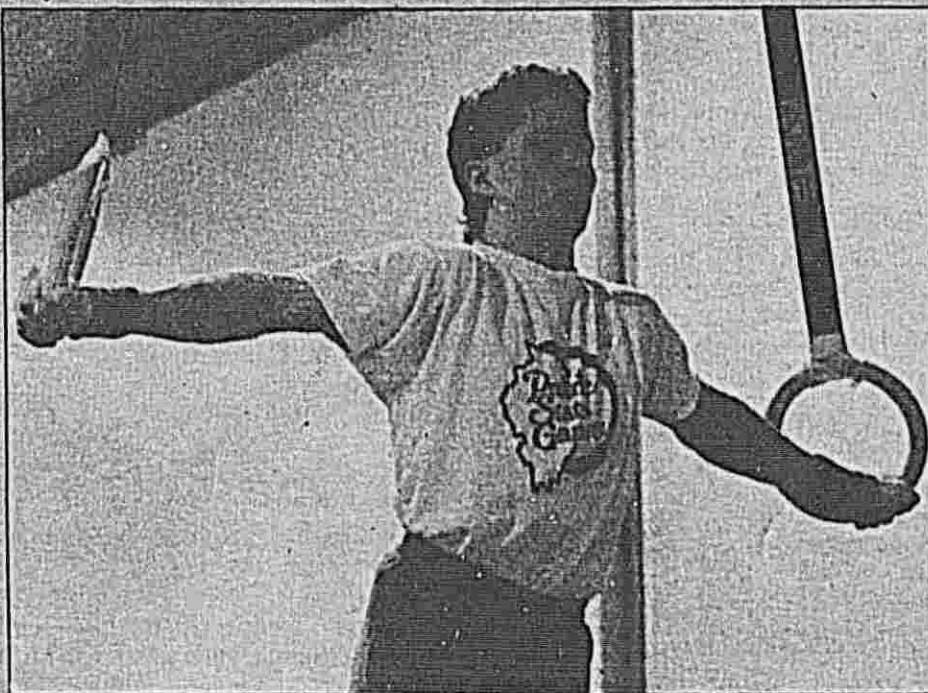

The way Mundelein gymnastics coach Doug Foerch views things, the Mustangs program is well ahead of his big picture.

"We wanted to make sectionals the first year, make the state meet the second year and finish in the top three in the state the third year," Foerch said.

The Mustangs so far are right at it not ahead of that schedule.

"We made a plan and already had it fulfilled," Foerch said.

Although this season has barely begun, Mundelein has already left its mark by placing first in each of its meets. Lake

Mustang concentration

County gymnastics fans will have a chance to see the Mustangs at home when they host Elgin Larkin March 29. The frosh-soph meet begins at 6 p.m. and the varsity at 7 p.m.

Gymnastics success is no stranger to Foerch, though. After transferring from Illinois State University, Foerch was a key member of the 1983 Northern Illinois University team which advanced to the national meet.

Coaching gymnastics is very much a family affair for the Foerch family. Doug's brother Steve is an assistant at Niles West and brother Brad is head coach at Naperville North.

Doug's team handily outdistanced the Naperville North squad 151-125.4 at a meet known as the Foerch invite.

Although the Foerchs grew up in a gymnastics atmosphere, the boys sport is somewhat rare in Lake County. Only rival Libertyville offers the sport, leading to few rivalries.

"Gymnastics coaches are somewhat scarce," Foerch said.

The Mustangs this year are lead by J.T. Dorsch, who placed first in all events at the Naperville North meet. He set a school record with a 9.2 on the floor exercise, a 9.4 on the still rings and a 9.6 in the all-around.

"Breaking 150 points was a big deal for the kids. Now they can shoot for 155 which gives them a big boost. But there's still room for improvement," Foerch said.

CLC nine begins new season with challenging spring trip

By STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

In some respects, Gene Hanson was never that far from the College of Lake County's baseball program.

As a teacher, all he had to do was walk across campus to catch a home game or practice. But because of business and teaching commitments, that's about all Hanson could do. He couldn't call for a pitchout, sacrifice, or double steal. Or even pencil in a lineup to give to the umpire.

"The thing I missed most was working with the kids," Hanson said.

It was Palm Sunday morning, a time for sleeping in, church, steak and eggs breakfasts and St. Joseph's tables. Yet it did not take much imagination to realize Hanson's enthusiasm for the grand old game of baseball.

"We have a great facility and the kids are working hard. Indoors is fun for us because you are able to break down all the aspects of the game such as run downs, sacrifice bunts and all the little things," Hanson said.

The Lancers, though, are ready to field ground balls without looking at painted three-point arcs and out-of-bounds markers on gym floors.

"We're getting a little tired of it now. I've noticed in the last three or four practices they are getting a little antsy," Hanson said.

So the plans were for CLC, Mother Nature permitting, to work outside in preparation for a spring trip to Tennessee which begins March 25.

All baseball coaches are optimistic in March, but the Lancers' mentor feels his team is ready for the scheduled 18-game swing through Dixie.

"I would hope that we don't win every game because then we would come back thinking we are unbeatable. I'd be pleased if we went 12-6 or even 9-9. The spring trip is designed to pull the kids together because team spirit is very important. It will also show us what we need to work on," Hanson said.

The Lancers will be going up against two teams which will combined have played more than 30 games by the time they host CLC. And in Martin Methodist, the opponent is one of the annual contenders for the state crown.

CLC features a combination of veteran sophomores, and talented newcomers from all parts of Lake County.

"We have the nucleus of a team that has the potential to have a very good season. We have a good blend of experienced players and talented freshmen that could make a run at the Skyway Conference title and maybe the state championship. If key players develop this could be an exciting team," Hanson said.

Leading that pitching effort is Zion-Benton product Bruce Wimer. "I don't know that I've had a better freshman pitcher," Hanson said.

Stevenson's Mark Lidinsk, who "is being watched closely by the pros" is also expected to be a stopper.

Bidding for the third and fourth spots in the rotation are: Marty Butler (Libertyville); Rob Ruley (Lake Zurich); Mike Van Dien (Lake Forest) or freshman Tim Summers (Libertyville).

"The spring trip will give a good indication of who will accept the challenge because each pitcher will throw a lot of innings," Hanson said.

Sophomore Mike Bock of Libertyville will be the relief ace.

Roy Salinas returns to the CLC lineup after a year's absence. Two years ago, he was all Skyway conference and just missed all-state honors. He had 70 runs-batted-in and 13 home runs that year. Salinas will play first base.

All-County catcher Bill Demo of Waukegan heads the signal-callers with Lake Zurich's Dave Anderson as a backup.

"The outfield is big, strong and fast," Hanson said.

Dave Otto of Libertyville could lead the team in steals.

Sophomore John Becker of Waukegan will likely start at second base.

Greg Green of Zion and Jeff Betterman, a Stevenson grad, are listed as shortstops. Chad Edy is a second base candidate.

"Edy should hit very well and give us a good double play combination with Green. Green has the potential to have an outstanding season. He is quick, a good line drive hitter and strong defensively," Hanson said.

As far as the Skyway Conference race is concerned, Hanson picked Waukegan as the early-season favorite along with Oakton. Elgin could be the most improved team, he said.

Offers coaches better skills

By STEVE PETERSON
SPORTS EDITOR

If you are coaching basketball, football, baseball, soccer, or golf, the College of Lake County has a program which could help both athletes and players alike.

CLC physical education instructor Candice Brasile is offering the American Coaching Effectiveness Program (ACEP) which gives coaches a chance to better their understanding of their particular sport and of coaching in general.

"As a department we decided to do something to offer coaching certificates in three years ago. They've got it all worked out and put together," Brasile said of the program.

To date, most of the people the CLC program has been attracting is youth coaches who work with park districts and townships.

The cost of the class includes a $10 fee and an $18.64 book.

The program includes two-hour lecture plus sessions with experts in individual sports. The next sport to be offered will be soccer on April 13, 20 and 27. Worth Burbank, assistant soccer coach at CLC, will help with the finer points of coaching soccer. Other sports scheduled for this year are: football with ex-Bear and CLC Athletic Dir. Curtis Gentry in June; volleyball in August and basketball with CLC Coach Bruce Smith in October.

Brasile said parents and organization are demanding better coaches.

"It is designed for any sport," she said.

"The best coaches do more than win games," Fred Martens, who developed ACEP for Human Kinetics Publishers said in a video shown to those taking the class.

"This program is just taking off," Brasile, a Woodstock resident, said.

Coaches who take the courses do not have to be teachers, Brasile said.

The ACEP "Leader" level is designed especially for youth and volunteer coaches, teaching them the basic concepts and principles needed to be successful coaches, according to a brochure.

Benefits to coaches include: how to formulate practice plans; how to teach skills more effectively and successfully; how to care for and prevent injuries through safe coaching practices; and what constitutes liability and how to avoid coaching practices which lead to lawsuits.

The ACEP program involves blue and the red. In the blue course, videos, workbooks and a take-home, open-book exam are used.

The first ACEP program was offered in October. ACEP can handle some 25 people in each section at one time, Brasile said.

"The participants have been pleased with the program. We have not had anybody say it was not worth it," Brasile said.

Some park districts and townships are considering having ACEP certified coaches a requirement before a league may use its facilities.

Five coaches from Prince of Peace teams in Lake Villa have participated as well as coaches from Arden Shores in Lake Bluff.

"There's so much involved in coaching," Brasile said.

Among the major national organizations using ACEP include: Amateur Hockey Assn. of the United States; American Swimming Coaches Assn.; The Athletics Congress; National Junior College Athletic Assn.; sport associations in fencing, table tennis, wrestling, field hockey and speedskating.

Colleges using it are: College of William and Mary, Illinois State University, University of Illinois and Southern Illinois University.

Farina helps Gophers win

Mundelein High School graduate Mike Farina contributed as the University of Minnesota's men's gymnastics team won three meets.

A sophomore, Farina won the horizontal bars with a 9.6 score in the team's home finale against Wisconsin, Michigan State and Michigan.

The Gophers of Coach Fred Roethlisberger were ranked sixth in the nation. The Gophers are 6-1 overall and 4-0 in the Big Ten heading into the final week of the regular season.

Minnesota had a season-high score of 279.6 in the latest meet.

West top player

Grayslake basketball player Timm West is this year's Lakeland Newspapers player-of-the-year. West averaged more than 18 points a game as Rams won Northwest Suburban Conference title. Lakeland Newspapers Managing Editor Mike Pramshaler presents West with plaque.

Consistency watchword for Bader, Blue Devils

By STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

The statistic almost seemed to get lost in the excitement of the moment.

Following Warren's 61-56 win over Deerfield someone pointed out that Warren basketball Coach Darrel Bader has now averaged 20 wins a season in the last nine years.

Not coming close a couple of times, getting magic No. 20 once or twice but winning 20 games on the average.

It is that consistency which has put the Blue Devils on the brink of a trip to Champaign two seasons in a row which earns Bader Lakeland Newspapers' first basketball Coach-of-the-Year award.

"We feel there is room for success in our program for everyone," Bader said.

Bader, now in his 13th season at Warren, has had four 20-win plus seasons over the years and has garnered five regional titles to go with the two Sweet Sixteen showings. An 8-16 record in 1979-80 is the only losing season.

Bader, whose 24-6 team won the Waukegan East sectional, has seen many a talented player come through the doors of first the "pit" and now the new gymnasium at Warren.

Max Lingenfelter, Steve Jarrell, Brian

Last year Bader notched win No. 200 in his career as the Blue Devils shared the North Suburban Conference title with Lake Forest and Zion-Benton. This year they won the crown outright.

Bader was a three-sport athlete at then Waukegan High, playing football, tennis and basketball. He had his heart set on being a starter his senior year with the Bulldogs.

"I was planning on being the starting forward. Things did not work out for me and I was the seventh or eighth player. It was a very frustrating time for me. From that it helped me in coaching because I understand how it is on that bench when you are not playing; when you are not a starter. It gave me a good perspective. Coaches who were stars sometimes only understand stars' perspective," Bader said.

And Warren has had its share of that important role of senior players who practice hard but realize they will have limited playing time.

"A lot of schools have trouble with their seniors. Last year we had Jim Siwek, Brian Sears and Brian Sitz. It is just a kind of a tradition that we have been getting a senior who really contributes in practice and has great attitudes," Bader said.

"The star is the team," Bader said.

Candidate Sides to stay neutral on board races

Lindenhurst independent trustee candidate Jack Sides is not supporting either slate for the other two trustee positions in the April 4 election.

"A number of people have asked me if I favor the incumbent 'Proven Leadership Party' (PLP) or the Citizens Action Party (CAP) for the other two positions. In other words - who am I for? The only acceptable answer from my perspective is that I am for neither. I am for the residents of Lindenhurst, for they have the most to win or lose in this election," Sides said.

Sides said in his campaign literature that, "what is needed in Lindenhurst is a village board that can rationally review the issues, be open to fresh ideas and concerns and work together to arrive at the solution that best serves those affected by the decision," he said.

Sides has been a resident of the village since 1981 and is married and has two children: Sean, who is 18 and attending the University of Illinois and Christine, age nine, who attends Millburn Elementary School.

Sides is a management consultant with Digital Equipment Corp. in Elk Grove Village.

"For a political party to list a slate of candidates and then say 'pick this ticket as a whole' is taking the residents of the community lightly. A party ticket may represent some common thinking and views, but I think residents of our village look beyond party labels," Sides said.

Running as Proven Leadership Party candidates are Tom Berger, Jim Betustak, Carol Zerba for trustee spots. Liz Haubert is seeking to retain her position as clerk.

CAP trustee candidates are Robert Warrander, Peter Bertini and George Nerroth. Kathy Kane is the candidate for village clerk.

Village eyes PUD changes

By BECKY JOHNS
Lakeland Newspapers
Lindenhurst's Planned Unit Development (PUD) ordinance may be changing.

At a regular committee meeting, the village board voted to recommend amendments to the PUD ordinance.

"We are trying to protect wetlands and natural resources in undeveloped properties and provide open space in different densities than is provided by the present ordinance," Lindenhurst Mayor Robert Ratch said.

The amendments to the ordinance have already been approved by the plan commission and will be up for adoption at the March 27 board meeting or first April board meeting.

The board also discussed the proposed monotony code amendment, which would prevent similar houses being built adjacent to one another. The amendment would affect only future housing and not presently standing buildings.

"It boils down to two questions: how close can identical houses be built and what is the definition of identical," Lindenhurst Village Admin. James Stevens said.

Village Engineer John Heinz reported on the progress of the new water station. "We're on the verge of getting the water system up and running. One piece of equipment is the final link in getting the new system on line," Heinz said. He said the new system should be on line by March 27.

Heinz added that the village is holding $35,000 from manufacturer Forbes, Inc. until the system is running to satisfaction.

Heinz stated that the new system will keep water pressure constant but not improve the water pressure.

The board is taking bids for a new computer system. Its specifications have been drawn and advertising is expected to begin in early April.

Watermain project begins

Mayor Edwin Schroeder and the Grayslake Village Board broke ground for the Glen-Brittain Watermain Project. The project will include the replacement and extension of the Brittain Avenue watermain and a further extension of the Brittain Avenue watermain east and west on Glen Street.

"The project will improve fire flow, water pressure and water quality in the entire area," said Village Manager Mike Ellis.

"This $90,000 project will be completed without the use of property tax dollars, and without any special assessments to the area property owners," Ellis added.

RLHS Band to perform in Washington

The Round Lake High School band will tour Washington, D.C. from March 27 to 31.

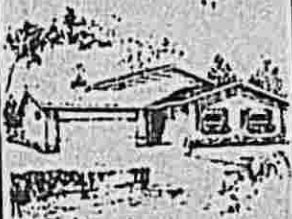

They will put on two concert performances during sightseeing. Their performance tour will include programs on the Capitol steps and at the Jefferson Memorial.

Musical Heritage International, a travel agency that specializes in school band tours is making the arrangements, and the Round Lake band members are looking forward to an exciting trip said Dir. of Bands Hal Trychta.

HOW MUCH DID YOU LOSE LAST YEAR ON NON-DEDUCTIBLE INTEREST?

UNLESS YOU ACT QUICKLY, THIS YEAR COULD BE WORSE.

As you know, Congress is steadily phasing out interest deductions on most consumer loans. An exception is a loan secured by your home.* Which makes it a great time to apply for a home equity line of credit at First of America Bank.

A Special 20% Interest Rebate Offer.

When you sign up for a home equity line by May 31, 1989, you'll receive a 20% rebate for all interest you pay this year. And we'll even waive all closing costs—an additional savings of up to $400. But you must act by May 31.

Put The Deduction Back In Your Interest.

The Federal tax laws allow you to use your home equity line of credit for any purpose you want. And in most cases, on loans all the way up to $100,000, you still get to take a 100 percent tax deduction.

Take Advantage Of Your Tax Break.

Get your tax break with our home equity line of credit. You can use this line instead of other loans that are no longer fully tax deductible.

You can also access your credit line simply by writing a check. And the payment schedule is flexible, too.

However, using the equity in your home is not something you should do without careful consideration. Furthermore, there are some items—like normal living expenses, for example—for which a home equity line of credit is definitely not appropriate.

So stop by your nearest First of America office, or call 1-800-544-6155 for more information. We'll provide you with a free information brochure and an application. We'll also help you determine if a home equity line of credit is right for you.

In no time, we can have your good credit working in your favor.

Millburn board, O'Leary discuss impact fees

Frustrated with the time lag it takes before a new home is placed on the tax rolls, the Millburn School Board of Education is becoming aggressive in dealing with new developers.

"It's time we begin to set the stage of what is expected," Millburn Board of Education President William Ballock said.

Developer Tim O'Leary presented plans for a single-family detached home project which sparked the discussion. Named Mill Creek Woodland, the development would be on 71 acres of land and would be on 35 lots. The planned unit development is bordered by I-94, St. Patrick's Cemetery and Mill Creek Rd.

O'Leary told the board that the development is expected to generate about 27 students for the elementary district.

Ballock started the discussion by asking O'Leary if he had considered subsidizing the district beyond what is required by the Village of Wadsworth.

"The problem is the lag time between when the houses are occupied and the income can be up to two years. This puts us in a difficult situation," Ballock said.

Millburn is on the state's financial

"watch list".

The developer has presented the plan to the Wadsworth Plan Commission and the matter was expected to be considered at the March 22 meeting.

Land planner Glenn Christensen of Lake Villa said the developer is working under the present Wadsworth ordinances.

O'Leary said he would be willing to work with the school board and understands the problem.

Later, as the discussion became more heated, O'Leary explained the developers' side of impact fees.

"I don't think impact fees are right. It seems like an easy solution but I don't think it's just. Impact fees are misused in some cases and in some cases are unconstitutional," he said.

He noted that some children may attend private schools.

"There is a very immediate impact of educating students in the district. We have no recourse but to educate the students in the short term," board member Jeff Zaloudck said.

"I've been here 11 years and all I see is more kids," board member George Druce-

Hoffman said.

Supt. Lee Smithey said Lake County is studying impact fees. Smithey said a two-tiered approach is being investigated, in which land or cash could be used to offset the cost of education.

Students successful as businessmen: Palombi

Lake Villa Dist. 41 officials are pleased with the results of a project in which students formed a business from the ground up.

Eighteen students in Anne Livermore's sixth grade class at Lake Villa Intermediate School hosted a dinner for the general public at Weasle's restaurant in Antioch.

"Both the adults and the kids said it was an impressive undertaking," Dist. 41 Supt. Dr. Peter Palombi said.

Final attendance figures were not available, but district officials are pleased with the turnout.

"The kids did a fantastic job in finding another location. They got a lot of skills out of it such as meeting the public and coordinating the menu," Palombi said.

Students wrote their own press releases for the event.

"It was a real learning experience for all," Palombi said.

In other Dist. 41 news, Air Safety Engineering was awarded the bid for asbestos removal at Lake Villa Intermediate and B.J. Hooper schools.

The bid was for $159,760. The firm was not the low bidder, but the low bid was incomplete, according to Palombi.

"We were pleased with the price we got," Palombi said.

He said the district's main thrust was to get the work done during the school year when the limited number of firms licensed to do the work will be the most available. The district has given the students two extra days off for their spring break to accommodate the asbestos removal.

The firm will send crews to both schools at the same time and work 16 hours a day to complete the project by April 4. The work was expected to begin March 21.

In other business, the board approved a contract for occupational therapy from the Special Education Dist. of Lake County (SEDOL).

Nonrenewal contract notices were sent to seven first-year teachers.

Palombi, on another matter, said the district is reviewing short term as well as long-term goals.

Letter to the Editor

Teachers talk

Editor:

The teachers of Emmons Dist. would like to urge all Emmons voters to vote "yes" on April 4 for the building and education referenda.

Student enrollment has grown at a rapid rate over the last five years, and our school is simply too small to accommodate this growth.

One example is the limited and crowded space that is available for the library/resource center and the lunchroom.

When more classrooms and facilities are built, then there is also a need to add additional staff, supplies, classroom materials, and support personnel.

The teachers at Emmons have always taken pride in the fact that the community is supportive of the staff and the quality educational programs provided for the students.

Because of the cooperation, commitment, and communication shared among the teachers, parents, and community the students have received quality education at conservative costs.

We are now asking the voters of Emmons community to show that support again in the form of a "yes" vote on April 4 to ensure the continuing quality programs.

The character of our community is directly affected by our school. Schools draw people to the community and return to the community well educated people.

In addition, good schools are a major factor for maintaining and enhancing home property values. In the end everyone within a community - students, parents, businesses, industry, and property owners benefit from high quality schools with a good reputation.

Emmons Teachers

Incumbents confident

"We're looking forward to being victorious," Lindenhurst Trustee Carol Zerba said of the April 4 election.

Zerba and fellow incumbent trustees Tom Berger, Jim Betustak and Clerk Liz Haubert believe their 'Proven Leadership Party' candidates will prevail over the Citizens Action Party (CAP) candidates.

"Our response has been great. We have signs in yards next door to all three of our opponents," Zerba said.

The CAP candidates are Robert Warrender, Peter Bertini and George Nerroth for trustee and Kathy Kane for clerk.

Jack Sides is waging an independent campaign for trustee.

"I think he will garner quite a few votes. He is waging a positive campaign and is willing to help out. He has already helped with the computer system," Zerba said of Sides.

All three incumbent candidates for trustee said the forming of the party in January was natural.

"I think we've been here long enough to know what is going on but not long enough to be rusty," Zerba said.

Betustak, Zerba and Berger have been on the village board since 1985.

"We are very positive people and we are very honest. It's not my philosophy to malign my opponent," Zerba said.

Betustak said the party "is continuing to build upon positive things in the community".

Candidates take stand on Rte. 53 issue

by MIKE PRAMSHAFFER
Lakeland Newspapers

With the April election a little over a week away, many candidates are campaigning heavily in an attempt to sway undecided voters to their liking.

One issue which could make or break a candidate is whether he or she is in favor of the Rte. 53 extension north to Rte. 120. The municipalities which are most concerned with this multi-million dollar "super highway" project include those in Elia, Wauconda, Fremont, Avon and Vernon Twp.

The Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC) has just approved a $2.5 billion transportation plan for the Chicagoland Area, which includes the Rte. 53 project.

The next step for the proposed extension is to gain approval from the Chicago Area Transportation Study Policy Committee, which will take a final vote on the plan April 12.

Lakeland Newspapers has conducted a poll of the April 4 mayoral and township supervisor candidates in an effort to inform readers where each candidate stands regarding the Rte. 53 proposal. Unfortunately, some of the candidates could not be reached.

WAUCONDA TWP.

Gerald Beyer (incumbent) - Supports extension. "I supported it back in the late part of the 1960's when I was mayor of Wauconda and I still support it today. A lot of people are against it now because they don't want it in their backyard. I don't see how we can accommodate traffic needs without extending Rte. 53."

VILLAGE OF WAUCONDA

James Keagle - Supports extension. "It'll reduce the congestion somewhat in the Wauconda area. Citizens for Open Government took a survey and 73 percent of the residents favored the Rte. 53 extension."

Jim Eschenbauch - Could not be reached.

VILLAGE OF LAKE ZURICH

Milton Faurot - Supports extension. Faurot feels the plan "makes a lot of sense. Of course, it could be refined further," he said of the need for improving arterial highways. "What we see today may not be the total answer to our transportation needs 20 years from now." Like other village board members, he feels Rte. 53 is a key to improving the movement of people and traffic through central Lake County.

John Schweda - Supports extension. "But we just can't put in that highway and not improve the others," he said of the clogged arterials in and around the fast-growing southern half of Lake County.

James Kay - Supports extension. "It was talked about 25 years ago. If the alternative is a six-lane Rte. 12 to end the stop-and-go traffic we now have, then I want Rte. 53. That's progress."

ELA TWP.

Bob Grever (incumbent) - Not in favor of extension. "I'm against it," he said without flinching. "If the state would spend half the money Rte. 53 will cost on improving other highways in the area our transportation network would be in good shape. Why build a highway to get suburban Chicago people to Lake Geneva more quickly."

Bruce Hansen - Not in favor of extension. Hansen opposes the cost and environmental impact of the concrete ribbon through central Lake County.

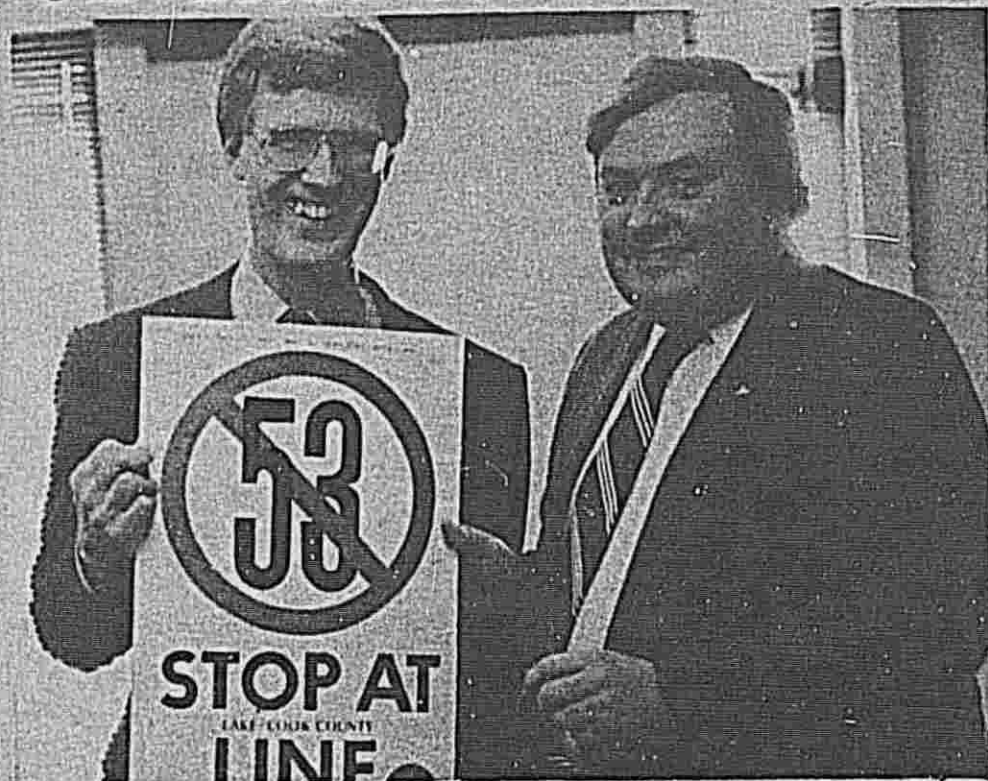

Burnell Donovan - Not available for comment.

Robert Perigo - Not available for comment.

AVON TWP.

Norm Geary (incumbent) - Not in favor of extension.

Russell Christian - Not in favor of extension. "I do think, however that something needs to be done. Perhaps it would be more cost efficient if Rte. 53 was angled over to meet Rte. 12 where it ends in Arlington Heights."

Sign of the times

Stop Rte. 53 sign beginning to show up throughout Lake County expresses the strong feelings of Dist. 6 County Board member Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich, right, who is part of the County Board bloc vehemently opposed to proposed ribbon of concrete from Cook County line to Grayslake. Holding sign with him is former director of the Illinois Dept. of Conservation Anthony Dean, director of the Open Lands Project, a land conservation body.

VILLAGE OF GRAYSLAKE

Melinda Willen - Not in favor of extension.

Marvin Smith - No opinion.

FREMONT TWP.

Barbara Behm - Not in favor of extension. "We don't need it right now. We'd be better off improving Rtes. 120 and 60 all the way to Volo and tying them into an improved Rte. 12."

Pete Tekampe - No opinion. "I haven't studied the issue that closely. Township supervisors don't have a lot to say about it anyway."

VILLAGE OF MUNDELEIN

Dick Starkey - Not in favor of extension. "I'm not fond of the idea of Rte. 53 being extended through the heart of Mundelein. I think the extension should be moved further west."

Marilyn Sindles - Not in favor of extension. "I don't think it's going to be here for quite some time. I don't want to see it, but we do need some type of additional roads in this area. I think it's going to be a while before something is done. Rte. 53 - I'm in favor of it but not right now and not where they are presently locating it. I think it should be further west."

Gus Johnson - Supports extension. "We need a more improved highway system. You can only improve existing roads so many times."

VERNON TWP.

William Peterson (incumbent) - Not in favor of extension. "I think we need to devote more time and effort into further developing our existing east and west roads. We need to put the Rte. 53 project on the back burner right now. IDOT should conduct a more complete environmental study of the project before any action is taken."

VILLAGE OF VERNON HILLS

Alvin Israel - Supports extension. "I think we need this project to go through because it will be a big chunk of our solution to the overall traffic problem that currently exists. It won't solve all of our traffic problems, but it will certainly help."

James Kimble - No opinion.

Barbara Williams - Not available for comment.

Rev. Pierce Gilmartin dies

Odor control

FOX LAKE—The Fox Lake Village Board has adopted a resolution providing for a "state of the art" odor control package. The chosen package costs about $4 million and will cover areas of the treatment system. The resolution states: Whereas the air odor has had a serious negative impact on the quality of life, commerce, and recreation in the Fox Lake community; Now therefore, be it resolved...that the proposed engineering...to eradicate any and all odors possible be integrated into the new treatment plant.

Fight density

ANTIOCH—The Antioch Village Board told township residents worried about new high density developments on acres off of Rte. 173, east of the old village limits, recently annexed to the village, that there are no plans for the zoning of that area. This, plus the zoning of lots to be larger than one acre, is expected to stop any high density development on the properties concerned. The village is presently considering applicants for planner of the newly annexed properties.

Backers hopeful

LINDENHURST—Supporters of the Lindenhurst Park Dist. are going on the offensive in the final two weeks before voters decide whether or not to keep the fledgling district. A two-page flier is being circulated in Lindenhurst. Friends of the Park Dist. tell their side in the battle with Citizens Action Party (CAP).

Sign debate

GURNEE—Gurnee Village Board

members, despite a favorable recommendation from the Gurnee Plan Commission, decided not to grant a special use permit to McDonald's restaurant for a larger sign. The board referred the matter back to the Gurnee Plan Commission. McDonald's was asking for a 50 foot sign, 20 feet higher than its present sign for its Rte. 132 location.

Cops pay pondered

VERNON HILLS—Who should be paid more, a building inspector or a police officer? That question was on the minds and tongues of Vernon Hills officials Tuesday night as trustees battled around the financial fate of village official who is yet to be hired. The board agreed March 7 to develop a new position in the village's building department: a chief building inspector. At that time the board also requested that village staff prepare a salary survey in lieu of that new position. The results of that survey, and a recommendation from Jim Doyle, assistant village manager, drew the ire of some board members when they discovered the new official's earnings would be comparable to a police sergeant.

Water fate murky

MUNDELEIN—The village of Mundelein appears poised to dive into the Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency (CLJAWA) but questions are still floating around on how to and how much. Village board members are trying to filter out the cost of attaining Lake Michigan water through the agency, while specifics on the proposed action remain murky. "The agency has offered to allow us back in," said Kenneth Marabella, village administrator. "But the question is how do we get back in. We know we can we just don't know how." Officials are awaiting a legal opinion from the village's law firm on how to join the agency. Mundelein was never an official member of CLJAWA, but was on the formation committee of the agency in the mid-1980s, said Marabella.

Gun control

WAUCONDA—Officials of Wauconda School Dist. 118 reviewed a proposal calling for stricter state gun control laws. The board is expected to vote on the policy statement at its next meeting, scheduled for April 6. The proposal calls for the elimination of sales and ownership of handguns and automatic or semi-automatic weapons.

New postmaster

INGLESIDE—Postal veteran Michael Wingstrom has been appointed postmaster at the Ingleside post office. Wingstrom has been the superintendent of postal operations at the McHenry Post Office since 1987.

McCluskey runs

THIRD LAKE—The race for village president is on in Third Lake. Trustee Karen McCluskey is a write-in candidate in the April 4 election for the top spot presently held by Paul Ericson, Lakeland Newspapers has learned.

District 79 gets bus

MUNDELEIN—Mundelein's Fremont School District 79 gained six school bus seats but took a loss of $15,000 in replacing a fire-gutted school bus. The District 79 School Board has accepted the low bid of $29,529 from Armtran of Illinois, Crete, for a 71-passenger school bus. The new bus will replace a 1985 65-passenger bus which was destroyed by fire Feb. 27. The bus caught fire at the district's transportation center after making an afternoon run, according to Superintendent Dr. Dennis Dunton. No students were on-board when the blaze started, he said, with the cause attributed to "a mechanical malfunction." The district received $14,000 in insurance benefits for the fire-gutted bus.

Power outage

SPRING GROVE—Residents in Spring Grove, Richmond, Ringwood, north McHenry and Wonder Lake were left without power last Thursday. The outage spurred comments from Commonwealth Edison officials on Spring Grove's proposal to create its own municipal utility. Edison officials maintained that a municipal utility would not have had the power outage fixed as quickly.

Another new village

GILMER—This could become the 50th Lake County village or community. Efforts are now underway to hold a referendum on incorporation for a four-square mile area surrounding the one-time railroad stop of Gilmer at Gilmer and Midlothian Rds. The area has an estimated 7,500 residents, including those at Sylvan Lake and Countryside Lake, who would vote on the special referendum as soon as September.

Nike 'white elephant'

LAKE ZURICH—Purchase of a former Nike site at Quentin and Long Grove Rds. for use as a fire substation by the Lake Zurich Rural Fire Protection Dist. is being strongly criticized. Residents of the unincorporated area of Ela Twp. say the 17-acre site with underground silos is a "white elephant" that will take thousands of dollars to refurbish. Reportedly purchased years ago by the county for $30,000, the asking price is now said to be $240,000.

Pro and con Rte. 53

GRAYSLAKE—Trustee candidates Sue Stricker and Kenneth Idstein stated they were in favor of the Rte. 53 extension, during the candidates forum held at the high school, while those who were against the Rte. 53 extension were mayoral candidate Melinda Willen, trustee candidates Roy Olson, James Jobes, Pat Carey, Russell Bussone, and Phil Harris. Mayoral candidate Marvin Smith was undecided.

Police benefit

ROUND LAKE—The Round Lake Police Dept. benefited from much of the action taken by the village board in that four different motions were made on behalf of the police department resulting in $3,880 to fully equip new village squad; hire a part-time records clerk for 20 hours per week at $6 per hour; raise starting rate for part-time police to $7.25 per hour under 20 hours; and authorize the Fire and Police Commission to hire two part-time police officers.
